Karnataka-da Nanna Sahodara-Sahodariyare, Namaskara!

You have always showered me with love and affection. It feels like a divine blessing to me. 'Ee Baariya Nirdhara, Bahumatada BJP Sarkara' – this call of the people of Karnataka is still echoing in my ears.

In our Azadi Ka Amrit Kaal, we Indians have aimed to make our beloved country a developed nation. Karnataka is keen to lead the movement to realise this vision. India is the world's fifth-largest economy. Our next aim is to reach the top three. This is possible only when Karnataka rapidly grows to become a $1 trillion economy. You have witnessed the work of the Double Engine BJP government over the last 3.5 years. Our decisive, focused and futuristic policies are imparting momentum to the growth of Karnataka's economy.

Despite the COVID-19 pandemic, Karnataka has received over ₹90,000 crore annually as foreign investment under the BJP government. It was just around ₹30,000 crore under the previous government. This shows the BJP's commitment to Karnataka's progress and to a bright future for the youth.

We want to make Karnataka the Number 1 in investment, industry and innovation.
We want to make Karnataka the Number 1 in Education, Employment and Entrepreneurship.

We are working to empower the farmers with a Beej Se Bazar Tak vision. Through new irrigation projects, expansion of storage facilities, increasing ethanol blending, usage of nano urea and modern technology such as drones, BJP is committed to making Karnataka the Number 1 in agriculture.

The decisions taken by the Double Engine government to boost connectivity, Ease of Living and Ease of Doing Business have built a strong foundation for Karnataka to become India's Number 1 state.

The cultural heritage of Karnataka has always inspired our nation as well as me personally. Jagajyothi Basaveshwara, Nadaprabhu Kempegowda, Shri Kanakadasa, Onake Obavva – this land has given us many such greats. Guided by their legacy, the BJP is working to build a modern Karnataka that would make them proud.

The BJP government will continue to work to create next-gen urban infrastructure across Karnataka, modernize transport, raise the quality of life in rural and urban areas, and creates new opportunities for women and youth.

Dream of every citizen of Karnataka is my dream. Your resolve is my resolve. When we come together and set our minds to a goal, no force in the world can stop us. I seek your blessings in the mission of making Karnataka the Number 1 state in the country.

I pray to bless Karnataka with success and prosperity.
I sincerely appeal that you exercise your franchise on the 10th of May to make Karnataka the Number 1 state.

My appeal is for the bright future of Karnataka. It is for the bright future of your family, especially the younger generations.

Yours,
Narendra Modi

MIG-21 CRASH KILLS THREE WOMEN IN RAJASTHAN VILLAGE

The fighter jet crashed onto two houses during a training sortie in Hanumangarh district of Rajasthan on Monday

PILOT EJECTS, FOUND WITH MINOR INJURIES

The crash sparked a fire and the police said the three women died of burn injuries. At least three others were injured. The Indian Air Force (IAF) said the pilot experienced "an onboard emergency". When his attempts to regain control of the fighter failed, he ejected, landing some 25km from the Suratgarh airbase with minor injuries

SPOTLIGHT ON AGEING SOVIET-ERA AIRCRAFT

- An inquiry has been ordered to establish the cause of the crash
- The incident has once again put the spotlight on IAF's aging fleet of Soviet-era aircraft which have been involved in some 400 crashes
- The IAF had last year set in motion the process to start phasing out its remaining squadrons of MiG-21 fighters within three years

HIGH-VOLTAGE POLL BLITZ ENDS WITH A BANG

Leaders play emotional card, candidates go door-to-door campaigning to woo voters

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE high-voltage public campaigning for one of the most fiercely fought Assembly elections ended with a bang on Monday evening. Soon after that, candidates and their supporters started door-to-door campaigning. With parties expected to use allurements to woo voters 24-48 hours before voting, authorities are keeping a strict vigil against any violation of the Model Code of Conduct (MCC).

On the last day of public campaigning, leaders from all parties went a whole hog addressing rallies and roadshows and playing the emotional card to woo voters. AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge told voters in Kalaburagi that defeating any Congress candidate is like defeating him, while his party state unit president DK Shivakumar asked people of Ramanagara district to give him an opportunity to become CM.

On its part, BJP and JDS tried to give a hard push at the last moment. JDS supremo HD Deve Gowda, who was in his home district Hassan, asked voters to re-elect his son HD Revanna to serve the people as minister. A massive roadshow was held in Channapatna where former CM HD Kumaraswamy played the emotional card stating that he will serve the people of the constituency until his last breath. He reached out to voters saying they should treat him like their son. Along with Deve Gowda, Kumaraswamy campaigned for his son Nikhil in Ramanagara.

CM Bommai, who was in his constituency Shiggaon, appealed to voters to support BJP to give a stable government. PM Modi, who addressed 19 rallies and held six roadshows, ended his campaign on Sunday. Former AICC president Rahul Gandhi and his sister Priyanka Gandhi too campaigned till the last minute. P6

Sonia remark: BJP urges EC to revoke Cong registration

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru/New Delhi

THE BJP on Monday filed parallel complaints in New Delhi and Bengaluru with the ECI against former AICC chief Sonia Gandhi for her purported statement referring to the "sovereignty" of Karnataka, which goes to polls on May 10. The ECI has sought clarification from AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge.

Sonia in her campaign speech in Hubballi-Dharwad on Saturday reportedly said, "The Congress will not allow anyone to pose a threat to Karnataka's reputation, sovereignty or integrity." This was subsequently tweeted by the Congress, and that tweet has been attached to the complaints to the ECI. The complaint in New Delhi, filed by senior BJP leaders including Union ministers Bhupender Yadav and Jitendra Singh, has sought revoking the registration of Congress and punitive action against Sonia in accordance with the directions in the Model Code of Conduct. EAR TO THE GROUND

N K'taka: Between Basava & WhatsAppa

SANTWANA BHATTACHARYA

By now, even those outside would be painfully conscious of the electioneering that has ended today in Karnataka. For one, as it reached its loud crescendo, it sounded more like a train averting a crash. And they would have been flooded with local detail. Like nuances of the Lingayat community. The more observant ones may also be up to speed on the poet-philosopher Basavanna himself—its spiritual fountainhead and chief minister of King Bijjala II of the Kalachuri dynasty. The one who talked of ahimsa and equality, against social discrimination of women, rituals and superstition, way back in the 12th century.

North Karnataka is that part of the state that's contiguous to Bombay/Maharashtra on one side and Hyderabad/Telangana on the other, with Central Karnataka anchoring it—'central' being where it should be, the heart and mind of the state. The North is where Hubballi-Dharwad nestles, still wearing the memories of all its cultural elegance and depth, a world once animated by the presence of litterateurs, thinkers, artistes, musicians, students. Till the cycle of life took over, the young and aspiring moved out, and the hub ceased to be such a hub. The Lingayat community, comprising nearly 35 per cent of the population here, continues to loom over the electoral politics though—and by extension, controls the levers of power in the state. As if culture has been replaced at the currency exchange with power.

KARNATAKA POLLS 2023 DECIDE
LAST OF A THREE-PART SERIES

Not all parts of the region near the shine and glitz of the buzzing economy one sees everywhere in the 21st century. The more north one's compass takes you, the more backward the map becomes. Neo-liberal money still flows along the old economy's highways—it has neither penetrated these parts of the Deccan plateau, nor done justice to its scenic beauty. The two main contesting sources of political ideas, the BJP and the Congress, blame each other for the visible lack of development of this region.

Basavaraj Bommai, the incumbent Chief Minister whose fate would be decided in a day, is contesting from this part—Shiggaon assembly constituency in Haveri district. Bommai may not have top ratings on the CM popularity chart, but on the ground here in Shiggaon he's the adopted 'son of the soil' with an emotional connect. Lingayats anyway have been voting solidly for BJP at least since the early 1990s. "But we don't need to be Lingayat to vote for Bommai," beams a middle-aged man in his rural constituency.

There's a substantial Muslim vote in the constituency—they too are not averse to voting for Bommai. The Congress, they claim, have put up a weak candidate in Yasir Ahmed Khan Pathan, hinting at some back-end understanding. The vociferous debates on at the national or state level—or on WhatsApp—are not absent on the ground. "Why just talk about Lingayat and caste—we're Hindus," intones a young engineering student who's come back to the village to witness the voting up close. The elders look on to him in an indulgent way. The knowledge economy may not have reached here, but the information economy has.

A vice-chancellor of a prominent institution in Hubballi-Dharwad region admits the Lingayat tradition is waning, "particularly among the urban youth." And cites that as the reason why the community is losing its hold on Karnataka's politics and political thought. But were the last two CMs—BS Yediyurappa and Bommai—not from the community? "Having a leader doesn't always help. The region where the Lingayats are in larger numbers have also not seen much development." There's indeed the sense of a drift, an aloofness—economic as well as psychological.

FOUR SCORE 625/625 IN SSLC EXAM

DONNA EVA @Bengaluru

FOUR students from Bengaluru, Belagavi and Vijayapura districts secured 625/625 marks in the SSLC exam. KSEAB director HN Gopalakrishna said that the overall pass percentage for the academic year 2022-23 is 83.89. It was 85.13 last year. In all, 145 students scored full marks last academic year.

Gopalakrishna said the difficulty level of exam was reduced to 10% in 2021-22 on account of the pandemic. It was because of this, the pass percentage was high last year. P7

More turbulence as SpiceJet gets insolvency glare

ARSHAD KHAN @New Delhi

DAYS after Go First filed for bankruptcy, another Indian carrier, SpiceJet, is facing insolvency proceedings.

Ireland-based aircraft leasing company Aircastle Ltd has moved the Principal Bench of NCLT to launch a bankruptcy process against the budget carrier. The NCLT issued a notice to the airline seeking its reply and posted the matter for hearing on May 17. SpiceJet said it is in talks with Aircastle to arrive at a settlement.

"In the Aircastle issue, notice was issued in the normal course. There was no adverse ruling against SpiceJet. The court has recognised the fact that parties are under settlement discussions and they can continue to pursue the same," said a SpiceJet spokesperson in a statement.

SpiceJet had last week claimed it does not have any Aircastle aircraft in its fleet and that the petition will have no impact on its operations.

The development comes less than a week after Go First voluntarily filed bankruptcy.

For these independents, game is in the name

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

A random check of the contestants' list reveals that many independents with names similar to either the sitting MLA or their main challengers are contesting in this Assembly election.

In the BTM Layout constituency, sitting MLA Ramalinga Reddy is contesting against BJPs KR Sridhara Reddy and others. What is interesting is that there are three others with the same name Sridhar in the fray. They are contesting as independents – Sridhar Reddy with the cauliflower symbol, KS Sridhar (ice-cream) and KS Sridhar (grapes).

In the adjoining constituency of Jayanagar, where his daughter Sowmya Reddy is sitting MLA, there is another Sowmya Reddy, who is an independent with a ring as her symbol.

In Dasarahalli, where N Manjunath is the sitting MLA, there are three independents with similar names -- R Manjunatha (gas cylinder), R Manjunath (sewing machine) and N Manjunatha (man blowing a turha). In Hebbal, represented by BS Suresh, the BJP candidate is Katta Jagadish. There is an independent, TS Jagadish, too in the race. In Rajajinagar, where Congress candidate is Puttanna against the sitting MLA Suresh Kumar from BJP, there is an independent Puttanna.

In Vijayanagar, where M Krishnappa is the sitting MLA whose serial number is 01, there is an independent M Krishnappa whose serial number is 10. In Bommanahalli, where the sitting MLA is Satish Reddy, there are two Satish Reddys, contesting as independents.

In Hoskote, where the sitting MLA is Sharath Bacche Gowda, BJP has fielded MTB Nagaraj. There are many independents -- N Nagaraja (MTB), Naveen Kumar (MTB), Ere Gowda (MTB), T Nagaraj (JCB) and Nithish Kumar (NTB).

At Gubbi, in Tumakuru, where SR Srinivas who defected from JDS to Congress is contesting, there is another candidate called Srinivas TV whose symbol is LPG gas cylinder. In Chikkaballapur where minister Dr K Sudhakar is running, there is Sudhakar N in fray.

Case of attack on BJP worker by ex-mayor 'fake': Congress

In the case involving the alleged assault on BJP OBC Morcha secretary Harinath, Congress leader Ramalinga Reddy on Monday alleged that a fake case was registered against former mayor Manjunath Reddy of the Congress and his son, Lithesh Reddy. Ramalinga said that Harinath was allegedly distributing money in 21st Cross, BTM Layout on Sunday. Meanwhile, Congress supporters, learning of this, gathered at the place. Harinath tried to flee and fell down. Harinath's injuries are superficial, but at the behest of BJP MP Tejasvi Surya, a case has been filed. Ramalinga claimed that the case is fake, and added that the Congress will file a complaint with the Election Commission. He alleged that when Congress workers went to file a counter complaint, the police showed negligence, and hence, it has been decided to raise the issue with the EC. "Since the FIR is registered due to pressure and it is a fake case, we will file a complaint with the EC," he mentioned. Earlier, Ramesh Reddy, a BJP worker, stated that Congress leaders and supporters had attacked Harinath at his residence.

Lingayats unlikely to vote en masse for any party this time

IT'S not perhaps that internal drift within the community that led to Jagadish Shettar or Laxman Savadi jumping to the Congress ship. Union Home Minister Amit Shah, who toured the north intensively, insists both will lose with a wide margin for having left the party for self-interest. In Huballi-Dharwad Central and in Athani respectively, it's therefore just a prestige battle. Will the Lingayats remain with the BJP, responding to what the party calls 'betrayal', or will the older generation press the button to avenge the disrespect to their leader—citing what some are calling a "Brahminical conspiracy"?

Shettar, a former CM himself, is almost a symbol of his community as it finds itself today—at a crossroads. Statements emerging from the Lingayat mutts across the regions punctuate the air like blinking lighthouse signals in the fog, speaking of shifting currents. Even if it doesn't influence rural voters or those ideologically anchored, it will not go without an impact. Shettar's own Banajiga Lingayat community, spread across a few constituencies in the central districts, may vote differently too. At least its elders, if not the youth, find the BJP's muscular ideology more enticing than the Congress's old-worldliness.

That the Lingayats are unlikely to vote en masse for any party this time is not something that's being disputed. How far and deeply it would split can never be counted until the last vote. On that, depends who gets the lion's share of 40 seats here. The BJP, retaining its majority, or the Congress, breaking into the bastion.

Not that the Lingayats are the only caste denomination that matters—the Kurubas are also a sizeable section here, as are the Maratha and Banjara communities. But scholar-writer GN Devy sees more macro-level patterns. "This is not an election about any community or state, it is about the nation. About the South culturally and financially trying to safeguard itself from an onslaught," he says. And Devy feels the Bharat Jodo Yatra sowed the ground here with the seeds of resistance.

For every argument on that side, one also gets those like writer Hanumanth V Kakhandaki and his musician-wife Radhika Kakhandaki, who think there's no truer "nationalist than Modi". Their publisher-friend Sameer Joshi chips in to add that the 'revri' culture is no good! Voices that need not be from Hubbali-Dharwad but could belong anywhere in the post-modern conundrum that's India. A vote cast on May 10 will hold multiple meanings, spanning the hyperlocal and the great beyond, ancient wisdom as well as modern brands of thought.

Girinath inspects poll infrastructure

ENS @ Bengaluru

DISTRICT Returning Officer, Tushar Girinath on Monday inspected the counting centres and strong rooms in Bengaluru. The counting centres are located in four zones of the city.

He said there will be three categories of counting staffers - micro observers, counting supervisors and assistants, and they will be assigned each table, he said. Two tables will be reserved for counting postal ballots.

Bengaluru City District Collector Dayanand said that each table will have a webcasting system. Training of enumeration supervisors and assistants have been done, and on May 12, micro observers, enumeration supervisors and assistants will go through another round of training. Police will be deployed in three levels.

Earlier, Additional Chief Secretary Shalini Rajneesh had participated in a pinkathon organised by BBMP to increase voter turnout. Girinath said besides pink booths, various theme-based booths have also been created.

Voter turnout key to poll outcome: Experts

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Bengaluru

THE voter turnout on May 10 will be the last and most important factor which will have a bearing on the outcome of the Karnataka election results. Higher the voter turnout, more unpredictable the result, with all political parties, especially the BJP, Congress and JDS having traction among the voters, according to experts.

This time, leaders from national parties have campaigned extensively, including about 100 from the BJP, led by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, and about 50 from the Congress. The regional JDS hit the campaign trail early on, with its Pancharatna programme branching out across the state, while the AAP campaigned extensively in urban spaces. Together, such sustained campaigning could have an unprecedented effect on voter turnout this time, with the electorate coming out to have a say.

In the 2013 assembly polls, the state recorded 70.23 per cent turnout, and in 2018, it was 72.13 per cent, the highest for Karnataka since 1952.

Anti-incumbency and other issues played a role, as people found a reason to cast their votes without fail, observed a leader, adding that distribution of inducements and money also had an impact.

Srinivas, a Congress sympathiser from Amaravati in Andhra Pradesh, who had camped here for several days, suggested that parties bring the electorate to polling booths, as high voter turnout is likely to help the opposition, as anti-incumbency is a prime factor.

Psephologist Prof Sandeep Shastri said voter turnout will certainly have a bearing on the results but it depends on the constituency and regions, such as Old Mysuru, Kalyana Karnataka, coastal, Mumbai-Karnataka and central Karnataka. "If there is anti-incumbency, voter turnout is higher and is likely to hurt the ruling party. However, there is no empirical data to prove it," he said.

Bengaluru: The BDA head office on Kumara Park West in Guttahalli will be closed to public on Tuesday as three polling booths, 44, 45 and 46 of Shivajinagar assembly constituency, are located here. The electoral officer sought closure of the office to make pre-poll arrangements, said a BDA source. It is one of the few major government offices to be closed in the city on Tuesday. With The Kerala Story, BJP signs off on a filmy note

PURAN CHOUDHARY
@ Bengaluru

THE BJP ended its poll campaign on a filmy vote, with a free screening of the controversial film 'The Kerala Story' in Bengaluru on Sunday. BJP president JP Nadda, Union ministers Shobha Karandlaje and Rajeev Chandrasekhar, Bengaluru South MP Tejasvi Surya, MLA Uday Garudachar and party workers watched the movie with youngsters at Garuda Mall late into the night.

PIC: NAGARAJA GADEKAL

"The movie helps in exposing the truth about a different kind of terrorism, it's an eye-opener for youngsters," Nadda said, after watching the movie. The audience was initially excited, but some appeared to lose interest as the storyline dragged on. The film, starring Adah Sharma, revolves around a group of women in Kerala who are forced to convert and join ISIS.

Ramya Janarthanan, 42, said the movie lacked "cinematic value" and that there were "loopholes in the storyline". However, she said the movie had a good social message for young girls and boys.

Having received free screening messages on various social media groups, Bengalureans who signed up were thrilled to watch the movie. However, when Nadda arrived one-and-half hours late, the public was tired and frustrated. The screening was scheduled at 8.45pm, but didn't start until 10.15pm. The party had booked a 175-seater hall for girls who signed up for the screening through a Google form. The form asked for details of the women's date of birth (DOB) and area where they reside.

Divya, 18, said, "I was encouraged to watch this movie by both my parents, especially my father. I feel it's a necessity for people of my generation as we don't pay attention to what is happening around us."

Divya's mother said she was intrigued by the trailer, and the movie was to set an example "to show my daughter why I am telling her certain things".

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

09th May : Tuesday is here again. This day is dedicated to the ancient deity Mars, who began life as a god of farming over two thousand years ago, and then became the god of war, giving his name to the martial arts. Libra, though, the sign of the moment, is usually very peaceful, so I am looking forward to a pleasant day.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Once you have opened your mouth, it's very difficult to go back on what you have said. So, if you have told someone you love them, or that you really don't like them after all, you may have to live with the consequences! You might be better off keeping your thoughts to yourself.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
Some of you are already experiencing the shot of energy that comes from Mars, the planet of action and aggression. Over the next five weeks you should always remember that being assertive requires that you consider other people's interests equally with yours.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
For the next few months your life and feelings will probably be dominated by events which have already occured. This means that the better you understand everything that took place over the last month, the better you'll manage the future. It's simple really!

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
You may have all the best ideas, but partners have the emotional edge. In fact, in some strange way they may even be able to use your old tricks against you! If you should be caught out, remember to smile. Oh, and be sure to have a convincing story ready!

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
This week's planetary set-up is certainly a powerful one, and if you are to do your best, you should dedicate today to the virtues of hard work and self-discipline. Get as much accomplished as you can in order to make space for coming social invitations.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
There are so many contradictory planetary patterns that you are likely to wonder if you have backed the wrong horse. Please realise that any feelings of indecision, or even of panic, are triggered by a multiplicity of choice. There might just be too much on offer!

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
There does seem to be a great deal of travel looming. So strong are these influences over the next few months that even if you stay where you are and never venture out, strangers and people you haven't seen for years will be turning up at your door. There could be some pleasant surprises.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Domestic spending still seems to be very important, and could be so for the next few weeks, if not months. If you're buying, selling or renting, you may have to alter your plans several times before the final move is played. But then, your own dreams for the future are also shifting.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
What transpires now, in the aftermath of the last eclipse, is bound to turn a number of close relationships upside down. Today's concerns may focus on your emotional security: does someone still feel about you the way you feel about them? If so, get in touch!

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
You haven't had it all your own way recently, but the cards are stacked in your favour today, even though you may be slightly uncomfortable, perhaps with a feeling that there's too much emotion around. At least you have an opportunity to get your way at home - so use it!

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
The best thing you can do today is listen to your conscience, and also explore your day-dreams. You see, there's a good chance that the answers to current questions are to be found within, deep in your soul, not in the outside world. A spot of navel-gazing could be a good idea.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
One of the great debates that permeate your life is whether underlying principles are important, or if you should allow yourself to be guided by trivial and superficial expectations. Sort this out and a whole range of problems will fall into place.

IndiGo, BIAL to pay ₹12 lakh to kin of deceased

Family alleged delay in providing wheelchair to the 60-year-old man resulted in his death

YATHIRAJU @ Bengaluru

HOLDING both IndiGo Airlines and Bangalore International Airport Limited (BIAL) responsible for the death of a passenger for allegedly refusing to provide a wheelchair and also barring him from check-out for treatment after he complained of feeling tired during the check-in process, the Consumer Commission directed them to pay ₹12 lakh to the family members along with Rs 10,000 litigation cost.

The commission partly allowed the complaint filed by the deceased Chandra Shetty K's wife Sumathi Shetty and and daughter Deekshitha Shetty C. "Nobody can compensate for the loss of a life with money. But the compensation can be of little help for the family members. Therefore, Rs 12 lakh is fair and just," said the commission comprising president M Shobha and member K Anita Shivakumar.

The complainants said that they had requested and screamed for help but neither the airline or BIAL extended any support, which led to the loss of golden hour.

Instead of showing concern, the BIAL had raised an objection that the complainants were not consumers, the commission said, adding this indicates an inhumane attitude towards its consumers.

Chandra Shetty, 60, along with his wife and daughter were planning to travel to Mangaluru on an IndiGo flight on November 19, 2021 at 2.45 pm. Both the airlines and the BIAL completed the check-in procedure, during which Shetty began feeling tired. When his wife and daughter requested for a wheelchair to take him to a hospital, they were asked to wait. For one-and-a-half-hour, they were not given anything. Taken to the emergency care at the airport, the complainants were asked to shift him to a hospital on the airport premises where he was declared brought dead at 4.45 pm.

IndiGo did not file its response before the commission. Denying the allegations, BIAL said the complainants had not requested a wheelchair. When Shetty was not responding to treatment, a buggy was brought in and medical attention was given, the BIAL said.

36kg ganja worth over ₹36 lakh seized from train passengers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

IN one of the biggest seizures in a day from train passengers, the police have seized over 36kg of ganja from passengers of the Prashanti Express after they alighted at KSR railway station on Sunday. The items are worth around Rs 36,30,000. Two persons have been booked under the NDPS Act.

The operation was jointly conducted by the RPF and the GRP, who have intensified their searches on trains and platforms to prevent any model code of conduct violations. The train commences from Bhubaneswar and terminates at KSR railway station around noon.

According to a top cop, the seizures were made from two passengers on the train. "Both the forces were carrying out checks right from Hindupur station on the Prashanti Express. There was a huge police presence at KSR railway station. The duo, who were travelling separately, alighted at KSR and headed to the benches on platform 4 and were waiting. Their behaviour was suspicious and we checked their baggage," he said.

The cop said one Abhishek (23) was carrying 11 kg and 400g of ganja in his trolley bag and back wrapped in tape. Another Mohammed Basid was carrying a much bigger consignment of 24kg and 900g in four bags.

RAMANAGARA ELECTED 4 CMs, GIVE ME A CHANCE AS WELL: DKS

Shivakumar plays emotional card while campaigning in Kengal and Kanakapura

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) president DK Shivakumar on Monday asked the voters of Ramanagara district to give him an opportunity to become the state's chief minister without mentioning the top post.

"You have produced four chief ministers... Give me a chance as well to serve you as you have done for the other big leaders from the district," he urged the voters, while campaigning for party candidate Iqbal Hussain in the vicinity of the famous Anjaneyaswamy temple at Kengal village. Former chief minister Kengal Hanumanthaiah hailed from the village.

Apart from Hanumanthaiah, Ramanagara has elected HD Deve Gowda and his son HD Kumaraswamy who went on to become CMs. Ramakrishna Hegde won the 1983 bypolls from Kanakapura.

"Last time, you elected me by a margin of 79,000 votes. Leaders Narayana Gowda, Vishwanath, and PGR Sindhia who contested against me earlier are with me now as they feel that the son (Shivakumar) of Kanakapura taluk deserves to become the CM," he told the gathering at Kanakapura.

'Cong will form govt on May 15'

Shivakumar expressed confidence that Congress will form the government on May 15. Congress will implement the guarantees promised to the people of Karnataka in the first Cabinet meeting.

"AICC chief Mallikarjun Kharge will make an announcement on May 15," the Kanakapura MLA said, fuelling speculation about who will be the CM if the Congress is voted to power.

On EC notice

On the Election Commission notice to Congress over advertisements targeting BJP, Shivakumar said he has replied to it.

"Will ECI issue a notice to Union Home Minister Amit Shah for saying there will be riots if the Congress is voted to power," he asked.

He said Modi was forced to campaign in Karnataka as the incumbent state government could not rule the state efficiently.

In Kanakapura, Shivakumar addressed a huge rally on the last day of public campaigning.

Meanwhile, a video clip purportedly showing Shivakumar and Congress Legislature Party (CLP) leader Siddaramaiah discussing government formation has gone viral.

Shivakumar can be allegedly heard saying Congress will register a thumping victory and form the government. He goes on to say that three independents may win. Replying, Siddaramaiah allegedly claims that five independents are likely to win.

Gowda campaigns for son Revanna

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hassan

JANATA Dal (Secular) supremo and former prime minister HD Deve Gowda has urged people of Holenarasipur to reelect his son HD Revanna by a huge margin. Addressing a gathering at Holenarasipur, Gowda said people should support Revanna as he not just developed the constituency but also Hassan district by bringing the highest ever grants for development works.

Revanna, a former minister, said the BJP is seeking votes for the Congress to defeat the JDS candidate in Holenarasipur. Coming down heavily on KPCC president DK Shivakumar, Revanna claimed the former allegedly hatched a conspiracy to topple the JDS-Congress government led by HD Kumaraswamy.

My prestige issue, don't make me lose twice: Kharge

ENS@ Kalaburagi

"IT is the question of my prestige. If you defeat Allamaprabhu Patil, who is contesting on a Congress ticket from the Gulbarga-Dakshin constituency, it means you have defeated me twice (first time in 2019 Lok Sabha Elections)," AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge appealed to the people here.

Addressing an election meeting, he said that making him the AICC chief is equal to making the people of Kalaburagi AICC president. "Now, it is your turn to reciprocate by electing the maximum number of Congress candidates. The people of Kalaburagi and Yadgir should elect all Congress candidates because both districts are my Karma Bhumis," he added. He said the BJP government at the Centre had rejected the demand to amend Article 371 J. But when he became a minister in the Manmohan Singh government, he worked hard to bring in the amendment. Because of this, many have become doctors and engineers. But the present BJP government has failed to give jobs to the youth, he alleged.

Responding to an audio clip of Chittapur BJP candidate Manikant Rathod on finishing off the Kharge family, he said, "I am not afraid of such threats. The average longevity of a person now is 75 years. I am in the grace period as I am 81 years old. As long as you people are with me and the Constitution written by Baba Saheb Ambedkar is protecting me, nothing will happen to me," he said.

Siddu traces PM's route after rally

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Mysuru

A day after Prime Minister Narendra Modi held a public rally that attracted a huge gathering where he trashed Congress, opposition leader Siddaramaiah charted out a well-planned tour retracing the Vishwaguru's route and addressing campaign rallies in Gundlupet, Nanjangud and other constituencies on Monday.

A big turnout at Modi's rally and his powerful speech have charged up party cadres, while its success took Congress by surprise. The Prime Minister touched upon corruption during the Congress government, direct money transfer scheme under his government, and Congress' proposed ban on Bajrang Dal. Siddaramaiah, on the last day of public campaigning, did his best to contain the damage caused and to blunt the Modi effect.

Siddaramaiah attacked the BJP government on the price rise, unemployment and 40 per cent corruption government. He said the BJP government waived off Rs 12 lakh crore loans of corporates, but did nothing to alleviate the problems of farmers. "If BJP is voted to power, the commission may increase from 40 percent to 80," he warned voters.

"What can we expect from a government that has Housing Minister V Somanna, who slapped a woman asking for a house under the government scheme," he said.

In Nanjangud, he said nonperforming BJP MLA Harshavardhan, who failed to raise relevant issues in the Assembly, should be voted out.

He said that the defeat and demise of a workaholic like R Druvanarayan is a great loss for Congress and the election is between money power and people's power. He called upon people to support Darshan Druvanarayan, who lost both his parents in a span of one month.

Siddaramaiah said that with his experience as a finance minister, Congress will implement its pre-poll guarantees after assuming office and charged that Modi has no idea about state finances.

In Chamundeshwari, Siddaramaiah called for the defeat of his arch-rival GT Devegowda, who trounced him in 2018.

Siddaramaiah also campaigned in Chamaraja and Krishnaraja constituencies, where Defence Minister Rajnath Singh, BJP national president JP Nadda and a fleet of BJP leaders campaigned.

Both individuals, party are important, says Shettar

HUBBALLI: Stating that individual leaders are as important as a political party, former chief minister Jagaidsh Shettar here on Monday challenged BJP netas to fight the election without depending heavily on Prime Minister Narendra Modi. Continuing his tirade against state and central BJP leaders, Shettar said he personally felt that only if individuals and party work in tandem, both will flourish. "BJP leaders target me saying the party is more important than an individual, then why did they organise these many rallies and roadshows of Modi," he chided. Shettar said cabinet ministers from the state in the Modi cabinet belong to a particular community and MPs of other communities have been made state ministers. He said this will be his last election and he will retire from active politics after the term. "I did not think of it now. I had made up my mind that I would retire from active politics after 70. This decision was before the BJP started retiring leaders over 75 years old," he added. ENS

BJP's Lingayat base intact, will win 135 seats: Yediyurappa

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A day after a Veerashaiva-Lingayat organisation extended support to the Congress for the Karnataka Assembly elections, Lingayat strongman and senior BJP leader BS Yediyurappa said that the voters of the community will continue to support the BJP. He expressed confidence in the BJP returning to power by winning 135 seats.

Speaking to reporters on Monday, Yediyurappa said that the Congress was trying to instigate the Lingayats against the BJP. "This will not work. When they (Congress) were in power, they tried dividing the community. Now that they are not in power, they are indulging in the politics of appeasement. Those who tried to break the Lingayat community are speaking about it... they do not have any moral right," the former CM said.

The BJP leader said that he became the CM with the blessings of all communities.

On the issue of reservation, he said that the State Government has increased reservation for SCs/STs. "Over 80% of people from these communities are supporting the BJP. When I was the CM, I presented farmers' budget and distributed free pumpsets to farmers and increased pensions. We have not indulged in caste politics" he said.

CM: Fight is between BJP's devpt agenda & Cong's divide-and-rule

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hubballi

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai said that the May 10 Karnataka Assembly elections is a fight between the development agenda of the BJP and the divide-and-rule policy of the Congress.

Addressing a public rally at Shiggaon, from where he will contest the polls, Bommai said, "We effectively handled the Covid-19 situation, distributed a relief of Rs 5 lakh per family that lost houses and Rs 5 lakh grant for the construction of a variety of houses. Construction of 300 new classrooms is in progress in Shiggaon."

'Lingayat Forum a fictional organisation'

EARLIER, speaking in Hubballi, Bommai said that the Lingayat Forum is a fictional organisation as it does not exist at all. The Veerashaiva is a very big community and it is not under any organisation, he said. A lot of respect is given to the Veerashaiva Mahasabha, but it is not correct to use any organisation for the election purpose, he added.

"If four or five persons say something does it become the voice of the Lingayats? The Lingayat community is like an ocean. The Lingayat Forum is an organisation that emerged during the election," he said.

On the Congress' advertisement campaign against the BJP on corruption, Bommai said that the Grand Old Party didn't have any document when the Election Commission asked for it. The Congress leaders, who talk of corruption, are facing corruption charges, he said.

KPCC files plaint against Chittapur BJP's Rathore over 'kill' threat

ENS @Bengaluru

KPCC spokesperson Ramesh Babu submitted a complaint to DG&IGP Praveen Sood, seeking action against Manikanta Rathore, BJP candidate from Chittapur constituency, for alleged criminal conspiracy to eliminate AICC chief Mallikarjun Kharge and his family.

Referring to an audio clip doing the rounds, Babu stated, "In the audio, a mobile phone conversation with one of his associates, Manikanta Rathore has disclosed his intention to eliminate Mallikarjun Kharge and his family members. Any common man can make out that the voice is that of BJP candidate Rathore."

He alleged that UP CM Yogi Adityanath, while campaigning in Chittapur, had stated that they had hatched a larger conspiracy, using illegal means, in the 2019 LS elections to defeat Kharge, and made it clear that similar tactics would be adopted to defeat Kharge's son Priyank. "Adityanath's statement coincides with the viral audio clippings of the BJP candidate. As such, we suspect that BJP leaders might be actively involved in the conspiracy," the spokesperson alleged, requesting action against Rathore and top BJP leaders who may be involved in the alleged conspiracy.

KERALA BOAT TRAGEDY

Agencies looked the other way

People pay their last respects to victims of the boat tragedy in Parappanagadi

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Tanur (Malappuram)

THE pleasure cruise that turned Poorapuzha river here a watery grave for 22 people, including 15 children, flouted multiple rules as the law enforcement agencies looked the other way.

Among the many rules that the ill-fated boat 'Atlantic' flouted, overcrowding is considered the prime cause of the accident. The boat, originally a fishing boat which was converted to a double-decker tourist boat, was carrying 37 passengers against a capacity of just 22. The police are also investigating if some more people entered the boat without tickets.

Further, there were no sufficient life-jackets on the boat and it had no safety certificate from the surveyors under the ports department. The boat also operated the service after 5pm despite the ban on rides on the river post-sunset. The failure to follow the mandatory security protocol also contributed to the gravity of the tragedy.

Though Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan, who reached Tanur on Monday morning, ordered a judicial inquiry as well as a special police investigation into the tragedy, and announced Rs 10 lakh each to the next of kin of the deceased, there was simmering rage in this otherwise quaint village on the many rules that the boat operator has been brazenly violating, perhaps with the silent backing of the authorities.

While police nabbed the boat owner, Nasar, from Kozhikode, the boat driver and his helper are still absconding. Nasar, an expatriate who recently returned to Tanur, had reportedly tried to flee the country on Sunday night, but abandoned the idea after learning that the police were close on his heels. Police have seized his vehicle from Kochi.

The chief minister, who paid tributes to the deceased at a madrasa where the bodies were kept for public homage, also visited the government hospital at Tirurangadi. "We can't describe the grief of kin of the bereaved families. We should take measures to prevent recurrence of such accidents," Pinarayi said.

"I used to study for two hours in the morning before going to school and till midnight after coming home. I am happy that my hard work paid off. I am planning to take up science in PU and prepare for the UPSC exam simultaneously. I want to serve my country as an IAS officer," she told The New Indian Express.

FACIAL RECOGNITION TECH COULD EASE VOTING PROCESS

PURAN CHOUDHARY @Bengaluru

THE voting process could become much simpler in the future, with the integration of facial recognition technology.

Taking a cue from the recent hackathon held in the city, the office of the Chief Electoral Office (CEO), Karnataka, with the help of the students of SRM University in Chennai, has created this new technology where voters can skip the long queues and directly cast their vote.

Under this new system, all the voter will have to do is download the 'Chunavana' mobile app and enter their Elector's Photo Identity Card (EPIC) number, which is printed on the voter ID above the picture. After entering the registered mobile number, an OTP will be generated, following which a selfie must be taken on the app, Surya Sen, Joint CEO-2 told The New Indian Express.

He added that after this, when the voter goes to the booth, the polling officer will check the details on a tab and allow the voter to vote immediately. The face of the voter will once again be scanned to avoid any errors. They will be allowed to vote directly without any further documentation, he explained.

Explaining the advantages of using such technology, Sen said, "It will cut down the queues and waiting time for voting. Less manpower will be needed at polling booths. So instead of four, only three or less officers can be deployed at each booth."

However, experts warn that there should be end-to-end security of such data.

KERALA BOAT TRAGEDY: NO LESSONS LEARNT FROM PAST MISTAKES

The Tanur boat tragedy in Kerala that killed 22 people is a clear case of criminal negligence. All those parts of the system—from boat operators to local officials to the state government—should be held accountable for the loss of precious lives. The state government has ordered a judicial probe, but officials and their political bosses must realise the tragedy could have been averted had they done their job and enforced safety rules without any scope for violations. The story of this tragedy is a story of violations. The operator compromised all security measures stipulated for tourist’s vessels and packed the boat with tourists to double its capacity without even providing enough life jackets. Initial reports indicate that the boat did not have the mandatory registration from the ports department and had not undergone the check to confirm it was indeed fit to carry tourists. It was a fishing boat converted into a tourist boat after cosmetic changes. The operator did not follow the condition that there should not be any service after 6 pm. Some persons who bought tickets for the journey backed out after seeing the lack of security measures. What’s shocking is that the boat operator’s lapses and violations had been reported to the officials concerned earlier, but there was no action.

It has become customary for the authorities to swing into action after every tragedy. Expect a series of announcements and brisk inspections for a few days, but things will return to square one after the dust settles and the din subsides. Kerala has witnessed several boat accidents in the past, including the tragedy at Thekkady in 2009 which killed 45 tourists, at Kumarakom in 2002, in which 29 lives were lost and at Thattekkad in 2007 which killed 15 students, two teachers and one employee. Judicial commissions were set up to probe these incidents, and it was revealed that sheer negligence was the main reason for all the tragedies. Sadly, the recurring tragedies show that the authorities have learnt nothing.

The government should ensure that the judicial probe into the Tanur incident does not meet the same fate as such investigations in the past. Such accidents harm Kerala’s image and its tourism potential. A proper mechanism to ensure the safety of tourists should be put in place apart from handing out exemplary punishments to those who put people’s lives in danger.

BATTLE OF FIRST-TIMERS IN JHARSUGUDA BYPOLL

In the last four years, Odisha has witnessed seven bypolls. The eighth is slated for Wednesday when voters choose who represents them from the Jharsuguda Assembly segment. The byelection was necessitated after the shocking murder of sitting Biju Janata Dal MLA and cabinet minister Naba Kishore Das at the hands of a policeman in Brajrajnagar on January 29. Das was a popular leader of the region and represented the seat thrice in a row. Between 1967 and 2019, the Assembly segment saw 13 elections, of which the Congress ended up on the winning side on seven occasions. However, the tides turned with the BJD coming to power in 2000. Between then and 2019, the party won thrice, including one by Das. And twice before, in 2009 and 2014, he had emerged victorious from the seat on a Congress ticket before he switched to the BJD in 2019 and won handsomely again. A leader of immense political and financial clout, the ruling party had decided to get him on board before the last general elections, which paid rich dividends. Now BJD has fielded his daughter, Deepali Das, to take on Bharatiya Janata Party’s Tankadhar Tripathy and Congress nominee Tarun Pandey. All three candidates are first-timers on the electoral battlefield, though with a long political background. This makes the contest very interesting. On Sunday, Odisha Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik and Union minister Dharmendra Pradhan descended on Jharsuguda to campaign for their parties as the election hit a fever pitch in the western Odisha district.

However, the Jharsuguda fight is not just another byelection. It will be—in all probability—the last poll before the all-important 2024 electoral battle. This makes it a matter of prestige for the ruling party, given the shrill pitch of the Opposition over the murder of the cabinet minister. The BJD would like to continue its victory march. Of the seven bypolls since 2019, it has pocketed six with considerable ease, including one in Balasore which the rival BJP held.

A win at Jharsuguda will signal that the dominant regional party is on track. For the BJP, there is too much at stake. In the Bargarh Lok Sabha constituency, which the party holds, this will be the fourth Assembly bypoll; of them it has lost the last three. Western Odisha is a stronghold of the saffron outfit, and it would like to make amends. Jharsuguda will eventually be a fight between BJD’s election supremacy and BJP’s re-assertion.

QUICK TAKE

HANDLING ALCOHOLISM

Assam offers the Voluntary Retirement Scheme to nearly 300 police officers declared habitual alcohol consumers. It is an old scheme implemented now to remove the “deadwood”—to quote the chief minister. Alcoholism is a self-pity disorder that develops over time upon ignoring the initial symptoms. Growing stress levels of the personnel primarily trigger it, complemented by gruelling work schedules, unregulated duty hours, leave refusal and discrimination. Resorting to the VRS is a reflexive action that neither acknowledges the causes nor cures the disease. The solution calls for a national support structure that mandates counselling, a positive work environment and considerate officialdom.

K’TAKA POLLS: TALE OF TALL LEADERS, OPTICS AND UNCERTAINTY

As you read this, we are one day away from Karnataka’s polls. This has been a hectic summer for the political class, both in Karnataka and all over India. The campaigning in Karnataka has seen not only politicians from the state participate but national leaders from literally every party making it a point to head South. The big names that have made this election exciting are Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Home Minister Amit Shah, J P Nadda, Sonia Gandhi, Rahul Gandhi and Priyanka Gandhi, among a host of others who have turned the election into a high-decibel and high-visibility activity for the entire nation to watch on their TV screens.

Add to it a list of leaders with local lineage who have worked hard—B S Yediyurappa (former CM) , Basavaraj Bommai (current CM), Nalin Kumar Kateel (State BJP president), Mallikarjun Kharge (Congress president), and Siddaramaiah (Congress), D K Shivakumar (Congress) and H D Kumaraswamy of the JDS (all three CM aspirants)—and you have an exciting cocktail of the national and local, making for a high-pitched election battle.

Time to do a quick analysis then as the campaigning is done and dusted. As our political class takes some well-earned rest and prepares to cast their votes along with everyone else, time to see how it began and how it ended.

In more ways than one, Karnataka’s election campaigning began much before the dates of polling were actually announced. The first salvo was really fired by the Congress party with the Bharat Jodo Yatra, led by Rahul Gandhi. The walkathon across India added a significant amount of traction and credibility to the brand of politics represented by Rahul and his party. The language was sober, the optics were friendly and the walk involved the masses. Rahul was attracting eyeballs. In many ways, he earned the respect of the common man for the first time in a long time. He was suddenly one among a set of leaders who could be listened to. His brand of politics seemed different, and people were ready to give it an ear.

A whole host of local political rallies that made Karnataka go into the frenzy of a build-up began. And ended. The big guns started their rallies. And they made mistakes as well. And every mistake was hastily corrected with band-aids to make them look nicer than they were. And then the list of candidates began to be announced in tranches. The first tranche had the obvious names in it. The second list was contentious and the third actually made it clear to all and sundry as to who was in and who was out. And then began the exodus. The BJP, which has experimented with newer names in this election, actually saw some biggies leave and jump ship. The Congress gloated and grabbed these names gleefully. And made a big show of it.

As Karnataka got closer to the date of polling, every party released its election manifesto. The BJP released its manifesto and revealed its cards first. And then came the Congress’ manifesto. While BJP’s manifesto remained rather matter-of-fact in its approach, the Congress party’s manifesto had a preamble that was long and detailed. And in it lay the vault of a controversy the BJP rushed to unlock. The naming of the Bajrang Dal as a contentious candidate in the list of parties to be banned in the future—gave the BJP an opportunity. In came the cry of “Bajrang Bali”, and Hanuman ji entered the campaign. While many do claim that Karnataka has already decided who to vote for—and that this will not be to the advantage of the BJP—please remember optics are important in any election. The Hanuman masks and Hanuman ji lookalikes in the campaign are optics gifts the Congress gave to the BJP on a platter in the last round of campaigning.

And then came the final roadshows. The PM has just completed a mammoth roadshow in Bengaluru, with thousands thronging to see him amidst the chants of “Jai Shri Ram”, “Jai Hanuman”, “Bolo Bajrangbali Ki Jai” and of course, the ubiquitously loud “Modi, Modi, Modi, Modi” chant. Rahul and Priyanka Gandhi were in the city as well and a big show of strength was displayed. Just as Hubballi witnessed a big Congress rally.

All the prominent parties in Karnataka have used mass media to their advantage. The television, digital, radio, outdoor and print campaigns of each party have added to the grist of the political environment. The theme has been one of communication that pokes the opponent in the eye.

The BJP has led with a story that is centered on the PM and his popularity in the country. The Congress, on the other hand, has focused on its “40% commission” line. The party has put together a nifty repartee to the “double-engine sarkar” line of the BJP: a “trouble-engine sarkara”, with visuals of two engines pulling in opposite directions, keeping the state static.

Every day over the last few days leading to the polls, there was a nifty and new angle to print advertising. If the BJP had one to empower every Indian woman by talking about “Namma Modi” as the son of a poor mother who worked hard, the Congress campaign talked of the robbed savings of the common man due to high prices of LPG cylinders, petrol, diesel and a whole host of consumables in the Indian kitchen. If the Congress party published a “corruption rate card” listing the price for a government post, the BJP run a campaign saying “Bhootada Baayalli Bhagwat Geethe”(pot calling the kettle black). The campaigning retained an eye-for-an-eye philosophy as most election campaigns do. No surprises here then. But a whole lot of fun. Serious fun.

Over the many years of watching election campaigns, studying election constituencies, running opinion polls and crafting strategies that a political party needs to use, I have one insight that I personally treasure. I do believe that in an election campaign, what you don’t see is more important than what you see. Election campaigns create the optics that all of us see. These optics do contribute but are a significantly smaller part of what really decides which way the voter will sway. And that’s the beauty of an Indian election. Who is winning then? No one really knows.

On that humble note, let’s wait for May 13, when the counting begins and ends. Ends the suspense of it all as well.

THE SHIFTING SANDS OF OIL ECONOMIES

RANJAN TANDON

Senior markets specialist and author

“There is no terror in the bang, only in the anticipation of it”– Alfred Hitchcock. The iconic shower scene in his 1960 film Psycho defines the shock element in the sub-genre of suspense. Led by Saudi Arabia, OPEC and its allies’ proposed production cut, curtailing output by 1.16 million bpd from May 2023, had a similar effect on the ‘gallery’. The embargo on Russian oil consequent to the Ukraine war was assumed to tighten the oil market. But prevailing economic and strategic political factors stymied the prospects. Markets continued to be in surplus. An anticipated record-high US oil production in 2023 and continued regional discovery of oil in Latin America could prove ‘price friendly’.

Moreover, the emerging shift in alliances while scouting for alternate supply sources is rampant in the changing energy landscape. China recently brokered an end to the diplomatic impasse between Iran and Saudi Arabia while also warming up to Moscow. Sentient of the developments and shifts, OPEC’s production cut, expressed as a stability-lending measure, commenced to energise prices through supply shocks.

Though the high prices in early 2022 fattened their sovereign funds, Arab nations are privy to the fact that relying solely on oil income is inadequate to attain long-term development. The monetisation of fixed assets and diverse foreign equity participation is ineluctable to effectuate their dream of moving away from overt dependence on oil. Indicative of this realignment are definite moves visible on the horizon.

Kuwait is developing Madinat al-Hareer (City of Silk), a $132 billion project, part of China’s Belt and Road Initiative, spread over 250 sq km in Subiya. Interestingly, a potential landmark, the Burj Mubarak al-Kabir, would stand at 1,001 metres, suggestive of the Arabian folktale collection One Thousand and One Nights, often called the Arabian Nights.

The ambitious Kuwait Island Development costing $160 billion involves developing five major islands located in the north-western corner of the country with a vision to build canals like in Venice, besides airports, hotels, shopping and business centres.

The Bismayah City project near Baghdad is amongst more than 1,100 stalled projects in Iraq currently in revival mode. Ambitious Iraq Railway projects linking Asia to Europe, and the French oil major TotalEnergies’ partnership with the Iraqi government for a $27 billion energy project could foster foreign equity investments in the country.

Saudi Arabia announced the $500 billion NEOM project in 2017 on the Red Coast in line with a vision for 2030. It is set in the desert and is projected as a unique enterprise unparalleled on Earth. Though the sovereign fund would partly meet the initial cost, much can be gained by going public and allowing broader global financial market participation. Aramco valuations catapulted Saudi Tadawul into the list of top 15 Stock Exchanges, closely trailing behind the NSE and London Stock Exchange. With the NEOM project’s probable listing, Tadawul’s ranking would move up while reducing its ‘heavy weightage’ on oil-based listings.

AP

Though the high prices in early 2022 fattened their sovereign funds, Arab nations are privy to the fact that relying solely on oil income is inadequate to attain long-term development

With a market cap exceeding $2 trillion (over twice the combined market cap of Exxon, Chevron and Shell), Aramco ranks among the world’s top three companies, along with Apple and Microsoft. Posting a $161 billion profit in 2022, the corporate is keen to expand its presence in other countries. Acquisition of a 10% stake in China’s Rongsheng Petrochemical Co. and a joint venture for a greenfield refinery and massive petrochemical complex in Panjin City confirm Aramco’s expansion plans. Beijing’s overtures to Riyadh suggesting oil trade at Shanghai Petroleum and Natural Gas Exchange in local currency could be mutually beneficial. While abating dollar dominance, this could mark Aramco’s subsequent debut at Shanghai Stock Exchange, the third largest after NYSE and Nasdaq. The transfer of a further 4% stake in Aramco to the investment arm of the kingdom’s sovereign wealth fund in April indicates economic diversification plans. Sinopec and TotalEnergies have shown interest in investing in Aramco’s Jafurah development, one of the world’s largest untapped gas fields, heralding a move towards an energy transition.

With a mere 1.73% of Aramco shares currently traded at Tadawul, London Stock Exchange’s premium segment and the Singapore Stock Exchange are rumoured to be on Aramco’s radar for probable entry, while Hong Kong vies for Aramco’s listing. Cognizant of oil price volatility, Saudi Arabia would be keen that the portfolio includes a diversified equity basket. Besides real estate and industry, hospitality and commercial ventures could be the additions.

Riyadh Air, the newly announced airline, will mark Saudi Arabia’s fresh foray into aviation. Announcement of a young fleet of carriers and extensive global connectivity might well be ‘open sesame’ to facilitate flotation and ‘international financial cooperation’. Airlines’ scrips, though cyclical, enjoy dedicated investor patronage.

The recent collapse of SVB brings to memory the weakening of Citibank in 1990 and Saudi Prince Al-Waleed’s infusion of over half a billion dollars in Citicorp shares when almost $200 billion of its market value was wiped out. Such acquisitions could be de rigueur once again. It’s not just the establishment of other sources of revenue but also involvement in the global market scene. The moves manifest a Saudi resolve to be more noticeable on the stock tickers worldwide!

We may eventually have the option of investing in highly profitable, transparent and secure Middle Eastern companies, the blue chips of the future. It may be their chance to share the stage with the big performers of the US, European and Asian bourses.

Karnataka voters

The people in Karnataka should vote for a patriotic and corruption-free government that develops the state, cares for the women and focuses on education and employment. They should not become victims of money and freebies, which will result in cheating oneself and allowing the government to be corrupt. This is nothing but cancer to the country. Voting is your right, so don’t fail to vote: play a part in electing the government.

Flower show

BJP’s roadshow in Bengaluru was more of a flower show. The huge amounts of flowers being showered on his car by the crowds gave an impression that his popularity is unmatched. But one wonders whether the public would spend so much on flowers or if this was stage-managed. The truth will be known only when the results are announced.

Custodial violence

Apropos of Mob-lynching accused beaten to death in Jharkhand jail, five policemen booked (May 8). Custodial death is a major disgrace and one of the worst crimes in a civilised society governed by the rule of law. The criminal justice system should be based on human rights. The Centre should enact stringent laws to punish police personnel involved in custodial violence.

The column Weathering the storms that life has in store (May 8) was a riveting read. All of Paramahamsa’s parables (original or retold) are. Boat accident

The gruesome boat accident in Malappuram killing more than 20 people is very unfortunate. It should be checked whether the boat was complying with the rules and if there was any official apathy in monitoring the boat regularly. The erring should be brought to book as early as possible to ensure that no such incident occurs in the future.

'Earthquake is the heart attack of Earth'

I see it as very similar to human anatomy, says O P Mishra, Director of the National Centre for Seismology

IT is hard to forecast earthquakes with current state of knowledge. Research is going on to predict place, time and intensity of earthquakes. Dr O P Mishra, Director, National Centre for Seismology, in a conversation with Jitendra Choubey, says we need sound technological solutions to address our development planning —no need to create a phobia against development.

Why Himalayan region has been experiencing frequent earthquakes?
Tectonic configuration of the Himalayas in a way that each Indian plate collides with the Eurasian plates. Around 50 million years ago, during the formation process of Himalayan ranges, Indian plates were subducted beneath the Eurasian plates. The dynamics of plates are in such a way that Indian plate tries to move on further, while the Eurasian plate resists its movement. These frictional motions – resistive and forward – cause a collision of tectonics plate or collisional subduction in the Himalayan region.

It makes rocks subject to too much strain and energy accumulation. Finally, it reaches a point when rock's searing and bearing capacity is superseded by stress, resulting in rock ruptures and ultimate earthquake happening everywhere in the Himalayan region. It makes this region quite dynamic. The measurement of the earthquake is in 'magnitude', which shows the total content of energy gets released. I see it as very similar to human anatomy that an earthquake is nothing but a heart attack of Earth.

How many seismogenic faults exist in the Himalayas?
An earthquake generates faults, and faults generate the earthquake. There are lots of partitioning of the seismogenic faults which give relative motion to the blocks. There are some regional faults, the main central thrust (MCT) fault which pushes further north. Indo-Gangetic plain is partitioned by Himalayan frontal thrust(HFT). So HFT is the boundary between the Gangetic alluvial and Shivalik.

Further north is another partition called Main Boundary Thrust (MBT). It is a boundary between Shivalik in the south and Sub-Himalayas and lesser Himalayas in the North. Then there is the boundary of the main central thrust (MCT), which separates Greater Himalaya and Lesser Himalaya. Besides, there are many minor faults like Brahmaputra, Taapsee, Kangra, and Dhubri faults in Assam. However, some faults are already mapped while some faults are yet to be mapped, i.e. hidden faults.

Are we getting nearer to the forecast earthquake?
It is impossible to predict any earthquake with the present state of knowledge. Furthermore, prediction has four stages – Anticipation, Expectation (increasing certainty), Justification, and Authentication regarding location, time and size.

We crossed all three forecast stages and demarcated the globe into different seismogenic zones. Based on it, today we can answer that there is a high possibility of an earthquake in the Himalayas. However, we can't answer where, when, and at what depth and size. Globally, the study is going on to decipher the fourth stage.

It is impossible to predict any earthquake with the present state of knowledge. In studying seismology, there is a huge difference between laboratory experiments and the real action of the Earth

O P Mishra

Is there any need for some basic technology?
In studying seismology, there is a huge difference between laboratory experiments and the real action of the Earth. For instance, if we take particular rock and apply measurable pressure and temperature to test its searing and bearing capacity. But in reality, it behaves differently at different sub-surface levels.

Though there are three crucial Earth's layers, however, there a lot of sub-layers and physical component is vary from layer to layer. Seismologists are searching for the earthquake diagnostic precursors to tell about earthquake occurrence of time, place and intensity. Until now, we can warn you on the vulnerability of zones and prompt you to take precautions.

Is there any relation between climate change and earthquakes?
I wrote a scientific paper in 2014 arguing climate change vis-à-vis earthquakes. Climate change led to speed up the melting of glacier, so the reduction in ice thickness. So, now, a lot of the brittle failure is taking place because of the lessening of the ice thickness block, consequently reducing Earth's crust load. It results in lower modulation seismicity of 3.5-4.1 magnitudes of earthquake at a micro level in the polar region and Himalayan glaciers.

The Himalaya ecosystem is shared among ten countries. But there is no holistic plan in place to manage Himalaya to save its melting glaciers. Do you think managing of Himalayas in a holistic way to reducing the earthquake disaster?
Himalaya is regarded as a water tower and immense resource zone for most Asian countries. Sustainable management of the Himalayan ecosystem to reduce the fast melting of glaciers is the need of an hour to save water wastage. If we do not intervene timely, earthquake impact would further aggravate as I mentioned, climate change cause mild tremors. These mild tremors cause rock cracks at the subsurface and surface level. When the melting of the water or the water from the Himalayan starts percolating and gushing into those cracks, further widening and leading to instability. All of these are not visible to the naked eyes. Take the example of Joshimath. Joshimath is located in the rupture zone of Chamoli earthquake of 6.8 magnitude in 1999. Then after, there were over 2000 aftershocks (mild tremors) of magnitude between 5 - 5.6 in the next one year.

Are the aftershocks major reasons behind the subsidence of Joshimath?
Over 2000 aftershocks happened between 1999-2000, which is the primary reason behind the subsiding of Joshimath instead of developmental work such as tunnelling. We are assessing the crack volume of the subsurface rock to suggest that what will be the long term remedial measures such as how to get sustainable water passage and possibility of the Joshimath.

Don't you think developmental work accentuates the earthquake and subsidence of Joshimath?
Making a construction or development of infrastructures is a very localised phenomenon. It is true that sometimes developmental processes also cause ecological imbalances. However, they also make compensation through afforestation work or other bioengineering solutions. You only need competent and sound technological solutions to address development planning —no need to create a phobia against development. Japan is a great example.

Tip-off messenger of BSF helps seize gold and narcotics

AMIT MUKHERJEE @New Delhi

SEEMA SAATHI, the social media-based tip-off messenger launched by the Border Security Force (BSF) a few months ago, has yielded the desired results. It has led to confiscation of gold and other contraband and narcotics worth crores of rupees. According to BSF, over 12 kilograms of gold were seized in the last one week.

Seema Saathi that runs on a Whatsapp number was circulated widely among residents of border pockets. It has been attracting valuable tip-offs which are leading to high value seizures along the Indo-Bangladesh border, sources in the BSF said.

"The BSF teams have been appealing to people to pass on any information related to gold smuggling through their Seema Saathi helpline No. 14419 or through WhatsApp messages or voice messages. A suitable reward will be given to the person providing concrete information, and their identity will be kept confidential," a senior official said,

To cite an instance, a large consignment of Phensedyl, which was ready to be smuggled into Bangladesh, was confiscated by a BSF patrol team on a specific tip-off. "It was only through specific tip-offs that were able to nab a postman who was trying to peddle the cough syrup bottles. He had a unique modus operandi which otherwise would have been difficult to detect," a BSF official said.

How it helps

To cite an instance, a large consignment of Phensedyl, which was ready to be smuggled into Bangladesh, was confiscated by a BSF patrol team on a specific tip off. "It was only through specific tip offs that were able to nab a postman who was trying to peddle the cough syrup," a BSF official said

The postman was using a novel method cloning barcodes and consignment numbers to pack parcels containing Phensedyl and was getting the drug delivered to smugglers living in villages along the Indo-Bangla border, the BSF official added. Within the first three weeks of March, when the messenger-based service was launched, the BSF has seized over 16.5 kg of gold biscuits worth more than Rs 9.5 crore along the Indo-Bangladesh border in West Bengal (only the South Bengal Frontier). These gold consignments were being smuggled from Bangladesh to India.

The maximum number of seizures are being reported in the district of North 24-Parganas. The most active border outposts in these districts are Jayantipur, Kalyani, Malida and Tarali, sources in the BSF said. "With the messenger in place and people engaging with us for rewards which are legitimate sources of income," said a BSF official.

Centre inks MoU with Japan agency to develop high-speed rail stations

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs and the Ministry of Railways have jointly signed a memorandum of understanding with Japan International Cooperation Agency for 'Station Area Development along Mumbai-Ahmedabad High Speed Rail (Project-SMART).

Out of 12 stations on the route, the MoU was inked for four high -speed rail stations – Sabarmati, Surat in Gujarat and Virar and Thane in Maharashtra. Surat, Virar and Thane are greenfield while Sabarmati is a brownfield development.

Under the Project-SMART, the authorities have envisaged developing surrounding areas of stations under the Mumbai-Ahmedabad High Speed Railway (MAHSR) to enhance accessibility and convenience of commuters and other stakeholders and also to promote economic activities in the vicinity of station areas.

"The project would facilitate and enhance institutional capacity of state governments, municipal corporations and urban development authorities to plan, develop and manage surrounding areas of MAHSR stations," stated the Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs.

The ministry, along with the state governments of Gujarat, Maharashtra and Japan International Cooperation Agency, is organising a series of seminars and field visits for the Project–SMART in Delhi, Ahmedabad and Mumbai. The first seminar of the series was organized at Nirman Bhawan on Monday; wherein officers from Japan Embassy, JICA HQ, JICA India Office, JICA experts' team, National High Speed Rail Corporation Limited, ministries and Town and Country Planning Organisation (TCPO) deliberated.

SC notice to DGCA in plea by Air India pee-gate victim

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Monday issued notice to the Directorate General of Civil Aviation and the Ministry of Civil Aviation on plea by a 72-year old woman, who was urinated upon in a New York- Delhi Air India flight last November allegedly by an inebriated passenger, seeking directions to the DGCA and all airlines to frame mandatory SOP and zero tolerance rules to deal with unruly passengers on board.

A bench of CJI DY Chandrachud, Justices PS Narasimha and JB Pardiwala issued the notice to DGCA and Ministry of Civil Aviation.

It was argued in the plea that DGCA has no policy with respect to how much alcohol can be served on Indian carriers internationally. Serving and consumption of alcohol is banned in domestic Indian flights, although it is freely available at airport bars and restaurants.

Thus along with an SOP, she had also sought for directing the centre & DGCA to set guidelines on alcohol policy on international flights of Indian carriers to protect passengers and airline staff, including setting limits on alcohol served, without any discrimination based on the class of travel.

"DGCA deals with such incidents on a "case to case" basis and is therefore inconsistent in the actions that they take against such airlines. The notion that a person committing such crimes can go free without attracting any penal charges also shows that passengers are not made aware of the guidelines. In the present case, the Petitioner was coerced into reaching a settlement with the urinating passenger, when flight staff should have respected the Petitioner's request to be kept away from the perpetrator and followed their obligation to report the matter to law enforcement officials. This is evidence that airlines' standard operating procedures for dealing with unruly / disruptive behaviour may be insufficient and / or insufficiently enforced," the plea stated.

Letter to CJI for urgent hearing in Bilkis Bano case

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

IN an open letter to the Chief Justice of India, a group of eminent academics, historians and rights activists have urged the Supreme Court for an immediate hearing on the appeal of Bilkis Bano against the early release of 11 convicts, who were sentenced to life imprisonment, as "delaying tactics and procedural subterfuge are being deployed".

Expressing deep distress at the delay, the signatories of the letter said, "If the Supreme Court is not allowed to hear such a matter, where should an aggrieved woman in this country go?"

In 2008, 11 men were sentenced to life for gang-raping 21-year-old pregnant Bilkis Bano and murdering 14 people during the 2002 Gujarat communal riots. The state government released the convicts under the state's remission policy in August last year.

Notice to Bihar govt on Anand Mohan's release

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Monday issued notice on a petition by the wife of slain IAS officer G Krishnaiah challenging the Bihar government's decision to grant premature release of former Bihar MP Anand Mohan who was convicted for mob lynching of the civil servant who was serving as the Gopal Ganj district magistrate in 1994.

Mohan was released on April 24 after serving imprisonment for 14 years on account of the remission which was granted by the state government.

A bench of justices Surya Kant and J K Maheshwari sought response of the Bihar government, Anand Mohan and the Centre in the plea filed by Uma Krishnaiah.

The petitioner in her plea has challenged the circular dated April 10 issued by the Bihar Home Department (Prisons) which made persons convicted for murder of public servant eligible for remission and also Mohan's subsequent release.

Plea challenges remission of murder convicts

The plea has challenged the circular dated April 10 issued by the Bihar Home Department (Prisons) which made persons convicted for murder of public servant eligible for remission and also Mohan's subsequent release

Stating that the state's decision have been taken on extraneous considerations, the petitioner in her plea said that the state while releasing Mohan ignored relevant factors such as conduct of the prisoner in the jail and past criminal antecedents.

The remission of his sentence followed an April 10 amendment to the Bihar Prison Manual by the Nitish Kumar government whereby the restriction on early release of those involved in killing of a public servant on duty was done away with.

Won't extend ED chief's term, govt assures SC

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

THE Centre on Monday assured the Supreme Court that ED director Sanjay Kumar Mishra would not get further extension in service beyond November. He got a third extension only because of the ongoing evaluation by the Paris-based Financial Action Task Force (FATF), it reiterated. A bench led by Justice B R Gavai, while reserving its verdict in pleas challenging tenure extension, wondered whether the FATF angle was an afterthought. "This court must not interfere with his tenure. This officer cannot continue after November 2023. But right now the peer review of FATF is going on… Nobody is indispensable," Solicitor General Tushar Mehta submitted before the bench.

'Pokhran tests brought in transformative changes'

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

THE nuclear tests carried out 25 ago were important not only from the security perspective but also from the view of India's confidence, according to experts. There are also transformative changes that were brought to the national security structures, they said.

Lt Gen Raj Shukla (Retd) said the way things have changed in the military structure are transformative and India will have to manage relations with China. Experts were speaking at a seminar on 25 years of India's Pokhran II, the Nuclear tests carried out by Atal Bihari Vajpayee government in May 1998. It is also called Operation Shakti. Pokhran-II, the series of five nuclear bomb test explosions, were conducted at the Indian Army's Pokhran test range in Rajasthan from May 11 to 13 in 1998.

The store being readied before lowering it for nuclear testing | MINISTRY OF DEFENCE

"A new strategic intent, a renewed power and purpose can be seen today. Establishment of the Chief of Defence Staff and Department of the Military Affairs are transformative," said Lt Gen Shukla, who is a member of the Union Public service Commission (UPSC).

China was highlighted as the experts believed it is incumbent upon India to manage relations with China which they feel can turn violent.

BJP leader Baijayant Jay Panda, said, "Indians have moved from diffidence to confidence with our population elevating to an aspirational mindset." China is a challenge and India must create more capabilities, he said.

Elaborating on the Chinese threat, Professor Srikant Kondapalli, eminent expert on China said, the Chinese response has been that India "cap, rollback and eliminate" its nuclear capabilities. China played a role in Pakistan's nuclear tests as "within few days, soon after Pokhran 2, we had info that Chinese had been training and supplying material to Pakistan", he said.

Professor Amitabh Matto, Ambassador TCA Raghavan, Dr Manpreet Sethi also spoke Experts also mulled over India's 'No First Use policy. But in case of imminent nuclear and chemical attack India can withdraw its no first use policy. "Our nuclear arsenals are with us and we can look China into its eyes, said one expert.

Ensure proper facilities in Manipur camps: SC

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

EXPRESSING concern over the loss of lives in the ethnic violence-wracked Manipur a few days ago, the Supreme Court on Monday asked the Centre and the state government to make all suitable arrangements and medical facilities in relief camp for the victims.

Emphasising on the duty of the state to also protect their places of worship, a bench led by Chief Justice of India D Y Chandrachud said the court's immediate target was "protection, rescue and stabilisation". It asked the state to submit a status report by May 17.

The violence was a fallout of a high court recommendation on March 27 to provide Scheduled Tribe status to the dominant Meitei community in Manipur. But the SC bench observed that the HC did not have the power to make such recommendation. "This power, the HC never had. This is the Presidential power," the CJI said.

Gujarat BJP leader waiting for wife in his SUV shot dead

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@Ahmedabad

SHAILESH PATEL, Vapi Taluka Vice President of the Bharatiya Janata Party, was shot dead while driving in the morning on Monday. Patel was a native of Vapi's Kocharwa village in Gujarat's Valsad district. Unidentified individuals opened fire on him when he was waiting in his SUV for his wife to return from a temple near Vapi town, police said

According to a Dungara police station official, the perpetrators on motorbikes approached Shailesh Patel's SUV in Kocharva village and fired three to four shots at him.

The incident occurred at 7.30 a.m., while Patel was waiting in his vehicle for his wife to return after prayers at the temple, according to the police. When the victim's wife came out of the shrine after hearing the gun shot sound saw two masked youngsters fleeing on a bike. She saw her husband lying in a pool of blood in the driver's seat.

The victim's wife said the homicide was motivated by an old feud with certain well-known individuals.

According to the official, Patel was transported to a private hospital in Vapi, where the doctor declared him dead. "We have issued an alert message into the incident and sealed all the entry and exit points of the district so that the assailants could not escape, we dispatched teams to apprehend the suspects named in the deceased wife's complaint," Deputy Superintendent of Police BN Dave said.

Shailesh Patel

Local BJP officials expressed shock and anguish at the incident and requested an investigation. Valsad District BJP President Hemant Kansara said: "The killing of Shailesh Patel today, is very tragic. He was a very good committed party worker."

Mamata bans 'Kerala Story' in Bengal

Says move aims at avoiding any incident of hatred, violence; Amit Shah to visit state today

PRANAB MONDAL @Kolkata

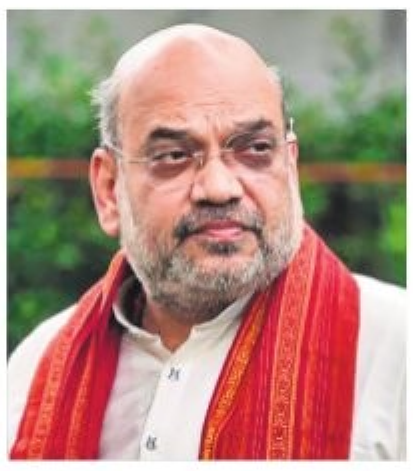
HOURS before Union Home minister Amit Shah's day-long visit to West Bengal to attend birth anniversary of Rabindranath Tagore, one of the biggest annual cultural festivals in the state, Mamata Banerjee's government on Monday banned screening of the movie, 'The Kerala Story', across the state to avoid incidents of hatred.

Shortly after Mamata criticised the movie while slamming the BJP, chief secretary H K Dwivedi issued an instruction saying the movie has been banned in the state for maintaining communal harmony as the subject of the movie may trigger hatred.

"This is to avoid any incident of hatred and violence and to maintain peace in the state," said Mamata.

West Bengal is the first state where the state government banned the movie.

Hitting out at the BJP, Mamata said, "First they came with Kashmir Files, now it is Kerala Story and then they are planning for Bengal files. Why is BJP is trying to create communal problem? Kerala Story is an attempt to defame Kerala with distorted facts."



FIRST STATE TO BAN THE MOVIE

West Bengal is the first state to ban the movie. "First they (BJP) came with Kashmir Files, now it is The Kerala Story and then they are planning for Bengal files. Why is BJP is trying to create communal problem? The Kerala Story is an attempt to defame Kerala with distorted facts," chief minister Mamata Banerjee said while hitting out at the BJP

BJP's IT cell head Amit Malviya described Mamata's decision to ban the movie unfortunate. "Mamata Banerjee's decision to ban The Kerala Story in West Bengal is rather unfortunate. It raises serious questions on civil liberties and freedom of expression. The movie is a real account of victims, who have endured the horrors of demographic invasion," He tweeted.

Reacting to the tension in Manipur, Mamata said "Manipur violence is man-made. They are planning to create same situation in Bengal. They (BJP leadership) are silent on social media platforms about the violence in the north-east state. The Home minister should visit Manipur, instead of Bengal. A total of 18 students from Bengal stranded in Manipur have been brought back home by Bengal government. They were flown down to Kolkata on Monday morning."

The intense political slugfest between the ruling Trinamool Congress and the main opposition party BJP broke out a day ahead of Shah's visit to the state. While Shah's visit is said to be aimed to woo electorates ahead of the 2014 Lok Sabha elections using Tagore sentiment, Mamata said that the Union home minister must visit violence-hit Manipur instead of coming to Bengal"

Referring to Shah's Bengal visit, a TMC leader said, "Tagore, Bengal's icon who believed in secularism, has always been noted for his strong stand against religious fundamentalism and exclusionary politics. He fought for Hindu-Muslim unity in his life."

Ahead of the 2019 general elections, the BJP swung into action to woo Bengali sentiment but it received a jolt during Amit Shah' roadshow in which a bust of Ishwar Chandra Vidyasagar, Bengal's social reformer, was smashed.

"Shah's visit to Bengal on the occasion of Tagore's birth anniversary is aimed to control the damage caused four years ago. His visit is aimed to counter Mamata's narrative," said the TMC leader.

SAD leaders appeal to Badals to reunite

After the death of former Punjab Chief Minister Parkash Singh Badal, the senior leadership of Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD) is making an effort to reunite both cousin brother Sukhbir Singh Badal president of the party and his estranged cousin brother Manpreet Singh Badal who had some time back joined the BJP. Top party leaders appealed both brothers to honor senior Badal's wish — "seeing the two brothers together in Akali Dal." Senior SAD leader Professor Prem Singh Chandumajra and former Rajya Sabha member and senior SAD leader Balwinder Singh Bhunder, considered close to the senior Badal both appealed to the brothers to reunite.

Amritsar corporators wary of delimitation

Many municipal councillors in Amritsar are in a piquant situation after the delimitation of the corporation wards. Corporators who were confident of retaining power in the next civic elections, have now gone quiet. Thanks to changes in the break-up of wards, former councillors say that an odd-and-even formula for woman reservation has not been adopted fairly. In a new strategy, these lawmakers have been preparing their wives, daughters, daughter-in-laws to go into poll fray. Last election, the odd number wards were reserved for women candidates. This time, the pattern may be changed for the gender-based reservation.

Cops admit 2,124 women still missing, 39K return

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@Ahmedabad

AFTER The New Indian Express report on 41,621 missing women in Gujarat went viral, Gujarat Police in defence of the state government issued a clarification on social media that 39,497 have since then returned. It is, however, a self-admission that 2,124 women are still missing and the police are unable to trace them. Significantly, the police have not contended the numbers in the news report.

The state government has not shared facts and figures for 2021 and 2022 which calls for more clarification.

"Out of 41,621 women gone missing during the period 2016-20 as per the data published in Crime in India-2020, 39,497 of the missing women have been traced and they are united with their families. The said information is also part of Crime in India, 2020," Gujarat Police tweeted.

"The investigation has revealed that women go missing due to family disputes, elopement, failure in examinations, etc," it added.

Second blast close to Golden Temple in less than 2 days; IED used

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

A second low intensity blast took place early on Monday morning at Heritage Street near the Golden Temple in Amritsar, causing minor injuries to one person. This came within 30 hours of the first explosion. It is suspected that both explosions were carried out using an IED.

A sweeper at the spot where the blast took place said that he was on duty as usual when he heard a loud blast and thick smoke enveloped the area. The police later questioned a number of people besides examining the CCTV footage of the area.

State Director General of Police Gaurav Yadav reached Amritsar and inspected the spot where the blast took place.

Ruling out a terror angle, he said, "As per the initial probe, both were low intensity explosions. We have not found any triggering mechanism or detonator at the spot. It seems the explosive material was in a container and a thread was hanging out of it. A passer-by may have accidentally pulled the thread and the device fell down, thus triggering the blast. There was no shrapnel. The absence of a trigger means it was a crude device."

"The forensic team is investigating the incident. It's too early to say if it was a mischief or if there is a terror angle. We are probing all possibilities.''

The DGP said CCTV footage is being scanned and details are being sought from eyewitnesses.

He quipped that it was probably the handiwork of some miscreants to create panic and added that investigations are in progress to identify the suspects and the motive behind it.

Amritsar Police Commissioner Naunihal Singh said a case has been registered in connection with the two blasts, which took place in a span of nearly 30 hours. "We have stepped up security in the area," he said.

The spot where the explosion took place has been cordoned off. The heritage street leading to the Golden Temple witnesses heavy footfall every day. Thousands of devotees walk through the street, dotted with shops, to reach the Golden Temple.

'No political heir, so Pawar took back resignation'

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

SHIV SENA Rajya Sabha MP Sanjay Raut has said that NCP supremo Sharad Pawar could not name a successor who could lead the party during his absence.

Raut in his edit in Saamana said after Pawar's resignation the entire NCP as party was shaken from top to bottom.

Reacting to the edit, Sharad Pawar said he has not read what Sanjay Raut has said and therefore it will not be appropriate for his party to comment over hearsay. He said Shiv Sena is part of the Maha Vikas Aghadi (MVA) and Raut has to make cautious statements.

"After NCP supremo Sharad Pawar's resignation, each one in NCP was worried about their future. What will happen with them now? The worker came on the street demanding rescinding Pawar's resignation. The senior NCP and Opposition leaders pursued Pawar to change his decision. Pawar respected the sentiments of the party workers and Opposition and withdrew his resignation," Raut added.

Statement divisive in nature: Karandlaje

UNION Minister of State for Agriculture and convenor of BJP election management committee Shobha Karandlaje filed a complaint in Bengaluru with the Election Commission of India, New Delhi, and the Chief Electoral Officer of Karnataka, seeking registration of an FIR against Sonia Gandhi.

Karandlaje said "sovereign" by definition is an independent nation and alleged, "The meaning of what Congess is saying is that the Congress believes that Karnataka is separate from India. This statement is divisive in nature and is aimed at dividing the citizens and creating a rift between people of different states. This is a shocking statement leading to igniting divisive sentiments and creating disharmony in society."

She said the remark was an insult to freedom fighters from Karnataka, crores of patriotic Kannadigas and poet Kuvempu, besides damaging the integrity of the country.

The BJP MP said Sonia Gandhi also violated the Model Code of Conduct by making such a statement and sought an FIR against her.

In the complaint filed in New Delhi, senior BJP leaders said, "The intent (of the statement and the Congress tweet) apparently is to disturb the equanimity, harmony, and peace in Karnataka just to garner the votes and support of some communities or groups, whose sole purpose and intent is to disturb the very being of the Indian state... It is indeed unfortunate and inappropriate that Indian National Congress is doing all it can to show India in poor light and negate the large strides that India and its people have made to the world of culture, education, science, industry and trade especially at a time when India occupies centre stage in the new emerging world order."

While seeking clarification from AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge, the ECI has also asked Congress to take rectification measures with respect to the social media post which has been put up on the Congress twitter handle attributed it to the Congress Parliamentary Party (CPP) chairperson.

In a 1st, woman entrepreneur sells fabric in kg

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

IN a first, a woman entrepreneur in Srinagar has introduced a novel concept of selling cloth fabric in kilograms in Kashmir. Her experiment has turned out to be successful and instant hit and from one showroom in 2012, her business has grown and now she has five showrooms in downtown Srinagar and is planning more expansion.

Anjum Jan, a woman from Illahibagh area of downtown Srinagar, ventured into business in 2012. She has done a Master's in Commerce and before starting her own business venture, she worked in different fields in private sectors for over a decade. "After gaining enough expertise in the private sector, I started my own business venture in 2012. I set up a showroom of curtains," Anjum told this newspaper.

"I first started from retail and then switched over to wholesale. I got a good response from the customers, especially from the females," she said.

As her business grew, she ventured into the fabric business and opened the fabric showroom selling different styles of fabrics for females.

Shoppers' bustle at the fabric outlet; (Inset) Anjum Jan | ZAHOOR PUNJABI

"Being a woman, I felt that women would feel comfortable purchasing cloth fabrics from a showroom run by women. I was proved right and women from different parts of the Valley began visiting my showrooms to purchase fabric of their choice," Anjum said.

Inspired by the concept of selling cloth fabrics in kilograms in Mumbai, Anjuman adopted the same model in Kashmir and is now selling the fabric by kgs. She has got a weight balance machines in the showrooms for weighing the clothes.

"After seeing the sale of cloth fabric in kgs in Mumbai, I instantly decided to introduce it in Kashmir and see how people take it. It became a hit among the people and people from even far off places like Uri, Kupwara visit my showrooms to purchase fabric in kgs. People from Jammu also visit our showroom to purchase the fabric," Anjum said.

She is now selling the cloth fabric for both men and women. "We are selling all kinds of fabrics including bridal and party wear, shirwani, etc in kgs," Anjum said.

She said she is not only selling fabric in kgs but selling it at a much cheaper rate.

"I directly import different styles and varieties of fabric from abroad, especially Singapore. With no broker or middleman involved in purchase of fabric, I get the fabric at a lower rate than available in the market and I pass the benefit to the customers," Anjum said.

She said the items available at her showrooms are at least 40-50 per cent cheaper than market rate. According to Anjum, she is also supplying the fabric to a dealer in UP. "The dealer has been regularly purchasing the fabric from me for the last few years".

Perhaps it would be the first case when a cloth dealer from within the country is purchasing the fabric from a Valley-based business person.

With the growth of her business, her showrooms have increased to five in a decade.

"My emphasis remains on the quality of the fabric. We check the quality of fabric before putting it for sale in the showrooms. If there is slightest complaint, I instantly act and check and if proved right, give a replacement". "But there have been only a few complaints in my decade long business".

Three juveniles among 7 arrested for Dantewada blast that killed 10 jawans

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Raipur

THE Chhattisgarh Police arrested seven, including three minors for their alleged involvement in an improvised explosive device (IED) explosion that claimed the lives of 10 jawans and a driver in the strife-torn Dantewada on April 26.

After the Maoist attack at Aranpur in Dantewada, the police had named nine cadres of the banned outfit, belonging to Malangir Area Committee of the Darbha, south Bastar.

The five Maoists are carrying a total reward of ₹15 lakh on their heads.

The Maoists issued a press note on Monday criticising the police alleging that several simple (innocent) villagers have been arrested and subjected to torture. "Such arrests should stop and the villagers taken into custody should be released," said the statement.

The Bastar police termed the allegations as absolutely baseless. According to the Dantewada police, the arrests were based on the evidence gathered from the spot, the crucial information secured and the consequent investigations.

5 Maoists surrender to police in Jharkhand

Five Maoists, including a zonal commander having a bounty of Rs 10 lakh on his head, surrendered before the police in Jharkhand on Monday. According to the police, all of them were wanted in various cases in different police stations across the state.

"The authorities have identified some individuals involved in the attack. Three minors who were detained were sent to juvenile correctional facility and four identified as Budhra Madvi, Jitendra Muchaki, Hidma Madkam and Hidma Madvi remanded to judicial custody", a senior police officer stated.

The four arrested were active in the Darbha division of the outlawed CPI (Maoist). Eleven persons including ten District Reserve Guards (DRGs) were killed after the private vehicle in which they were returning from the operation was ambushed and hit by a powerful IED blast triggered by the Maoists at Aranpur about 450 km south of Raipur.

In the huge cache of arms and ammunition handed over by the Maoists, the police recovered two AK-56 rifles, one SLR rifle, one INSAS rifle, two .303 rifles, one US-made rifle, one air gun, two country-made rifles, one pistol and 1,855 ammunition of different calibres and other explosives.

"The extensive anti-Maoist patrolling and search operations are being carried out in the area to trace out and interrogate suspected rebels and individuals involved in the incident. More details would be shared after the ongoing investigation", said Siddharth Tiwari, Dantewada district police chief. Dantewada is among the seven Maoist-affected districts in the conflict zone of Bastar.

36 OF 60 RUSSIAN DRONES TARGETING KYIV SHOT DOWN

Ahead of Victory Day celebrations in Kremlin, Zelenskyy says the enemy will be destroyed

KYIV

PRESIDENT Volodymyr Zelenskyy vowed on Monday that Russian forces would be defeated in Ukraine just as Nazi Germany was beaten in 1945, during an address commemorating the end of World War II.

His speech recorded at a war memorial in Kyiv comes one day ahead of Victory Day in Moscow, a Soviet war anniversary to be marked by an army parade through Red Square with security on high alert. "All the old evil that modern Russia is bringing back will be defeated just as Nazism was defeated," Zelenskyy said. "Just as we destroyed evil together then, we are destroying a similar evil together now," he added.

Zelenskyy was speaking on the anniversary of Nazi Germany's surrender to allied forces on May 8, 1945, Victory in Europe Day. He said he had submitted a bill to parliament to formally commemorate World War II in Ukraine also on May 8, which for years was marked on May 9 like in Russia and other ex-Soviet countries.

Ukrainian forces meanwhile said they had downed nearly three dozen Russian attack drones, spurring explosions and air raid sirens in the capital overnight.

In Kyiv, Mayor Vitali Klitschko said Russians had overnight launched nearly 60 drones, 36 of them in the direction of the capital. The attacks wounded five people, he said.

AFP journalists saw a gutted apartment damaged by debris in the Svyatoshynsky district of the capital.

In Odesa, officials said a Russian strike had hit a warehouse, leaving one dead and several injured. Russian army also targeted a village in the southern region of Kherson, wounding six civilians including a nine-year-old boy, authorities said.

In the eastern Donetsk region, Ukraine said Russian forces had deployed phosphorus munitions in Bakhmut. On the other hand, Russia enacted a major security clampdown ahead of Tuesday's annual commemorations marking the defeat of Nazi Germany in World War II, curbing the use of drones and ride-sharing services in its largest cities— even jet skis on the canals of St. Petersburg—amid its 14-month war with Ukraine.

At least 21 Russian cities cancelled May 9 military parades —the staple of Victory Day celebrations across Russia—for the first time in years, Russian media said. Agencies

Rare Iranian hanging of 2 atheists over blasphemy

DUBAI: Iran hanged two men on Monday convicted of blasphemy, authorities said, carrying out rare death sentences for the crime as executions surge across the Islamic Republic following months of unrest. Iran remains one of the world's top executioners, having put to death at least 203 prisoners since the start of this year alone, according to the Oslo-based group Iran Human Rights. But carrying out executions for blasphemy remains rare, as previous cases saw the sentences reduced by the authorities. The two men executed, Yousef Mehrad and Sadrollah Fazeli Zare, died at Arak Prison. They had been arrested in May 2020, accused of being involved in a channel on the Telegram message app called "Critique of Superstition and Religion," according to the US Commission on International Religious Freedom. The Mizan news agency of Iran's judiciary confirmed the executions, describing the two men as having insulted Islam's Prophet Muhammad and promoted atheism. AP

Go First asks NCLT for urgent hearing

Cites urgency in matter as lessors seek deregistration of another 13 planes, taking tally to 36

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

GO FIRST on Monday asked the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT), Delhi, to urgently pass an order on its insolvency plea as more aircraft lessors are seeking to take back their leased planes. Various lessors are now seeking deregistration of another 13 planes, taking the total tally to 36.

Senior advocate P Nagesh, appearing for Go First, said aircraft lessors had moved an application to repossess aircraft during legal proceedings and are not allowing them to carry out routine maintenance of aircraft. "We urge the court to pass an order," said Nagesh before the two-member bench headed by tribunal President Ramalingam Sudhakar. The bench agreed to look into Go First's request but didn't give next date of hearing. Another bench which heard the petition of an operational creditor SS Associates Services seeking insolvency proceedings against the carrier said the matter needs to be listed before the bench headed by the president. Go First (formerly known as Go Air) announced last week that they are filing for voluntary insolvency resolution proceedings before the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT), Delhi. The company is also seeking direction to appoint an insolvency resolution process (IRP) and an interim moratorium on its pending dues.

Go First said a severe financial crunch due to non-supply of engines by Pratt & Whitney (P&W) forced the airline to take this extreme step. The airline on Friday said its flight operations will remain suspended till May 12 and had suspended bookings till May 15. Following the disruption caused to passengers, DGCA on Monday ordered Go First to stop selling air tickets with immediate effect until further instructions.

"In view of the sudden cancellation of flights and initiation of corporate insolvency resolution process under IBC by Go Airlines (India) Limited (Go First), DGCA has issued a show cause notice to Go First under the relevant provisions of the Aircraft Rules, 1937, for their failure to continue the operation of the service in a safe, efficient and reliable manner," the regulator said.

'Ban diesel-run 4-wheelers in cities with 10L population'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

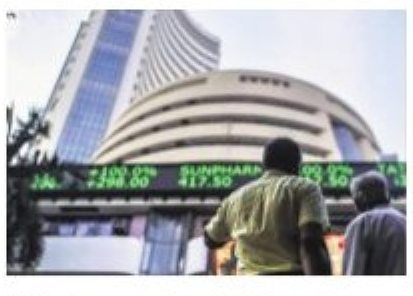
INDIA should ban use of diesel-powered four-wheelers in cities with over 10 lakh population and switch to electric and gas-fuelled vehicles by 2027, according to a report commissioned by the petroleum ministry.

According to the report, diesel city buses should not be added to the fleed in urban areas in about 10 years. The panel submitted its report to the government in February this year. The panel headed by former Oil Secretary Tarun Kapoor suggested phasing out motorcycles, scooters, and three-wheelers with internal combustion engines by 2035. "Electric vehicles (EVs) may be promoted as the optimal solution in preparing for phasing out internal combustion engine two/three wheeler vehicles by 2035. In the intermediate period, policy support for ethanol-blended fuel with an increasing blend ratio needs to be given," reads the report.

It called for four-wheelers, including passenger cars and taxis, to partially shift to electric and partially to ethanol-blended petrol with about 50% share in each category." A ban on diesel-powered four-wheelers in all million-plus cities and all towns with high pollution has to be enforced in five years, i.e. by 2027," the report said. For transitioning to EVs and CNG as a transition fuel (up to 10-15 years) has been emphasised. To boost electric vehicle use in the country, the report said the government should consider a "targeted extension" of incentives given under the Faster Adoption and Manufacturing of Electric and Hybrid Vehicles scheme (FAME) to beyond March 31.

Market gains over 1% on positive global cues, foreign fund inflows

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi



Weakness in dollar draws more foreign funds

The recent weakness in the US dollar is also drawing more foreign funds to the domestic market, with FIIs remaining net buyers for seven consecutive days. FIIs made a net investment of `3852.6 crore in the equity market on Monday, according to CDSL data

DOMESTIC equity market recouped all of Friday's losses as bulls took over Dalal Street after positive cues coming from Wall Street amidst upbeat US jobs data.

On the back of buying across sectors, the 30-share pack BSE Sensex surged 709.96 points, or 1.16%, to close the session at 61,764.25, while NSE's Nifty50 jumped 195.40 points, or 1.08%, to settle 18,264.40. Investors became wealthier by over ₹2.27 lakh crore on Monday as the market capitalisation of BSE-listed firms jumped to Rs 276.06 lakh crore.

"While the undertone continued to remain bullish, the upbeat US market close last Friday further buoyed the local market sentiment," said Shrikant Chouhan, Head of Equity Research (Retail), Kotak Securities. Hopes of the interest rate hike cycle reaching its peak and banking woes in the US receding, investors latched upon rate-sensitive stocks of banking, automobile and realty as strong monthly sales numbers are pointing towards a decent recovery, added Chouhan.

The recent weakness in the US dollar is also drawing more foreign funds to the domestic market, with FIIs remaining net buyers for seven consecutive days. FIIs made a net investment of ₹3852.6 crore in the equity market on Monday, as per CDSL data.

In the Nifty 50 pack, private lender IndusInd Bank was the top gainer, rising 5%, followed by Tata Motors, Bajaj Finance and Bajaj Finserv. Among individual stocks, shares of fintech major Paytm rallied 5.55% to a high of ₹726 after the company narrowed its quarterly losses in Q4FY23. Goldman Sachs has now initiated a 'Buy' call on the stock, with a target price of ₹1,150. Shares of Adani group companies fell sharply on Monday with Adani Transmission and Adani Total Gas hitting the lower circuit of 5% after global index provider MSCI's announced reducing the free float of the duo in its index review this month.

In the broader market, the BSE midcap jumped 0.94% and smallcap climbed 0.56%.

Among indices, auto rallied 1.71% and was followed by realty (1.54%), banks (1.50%) financial services (1.46%), consumer discretionary (1.08%) and services (0.93%). Only the BSE consumer durables index closed lower.

Invesco cuts valuation of Swiggy again

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

US-based investment firm Invesco has slashed food delivery company Swiggy's valuation to $5.5 billion. Earlier it had slashed the food delivery platform's valuation from $10.7 billion to about $8 billion. This new valuation is about 31% lower from $8 billion.

In January last year, Swiggy raised $700 million in new funding led by Invesco, and it turned a decacorn as valuation crossed over $10.7 billion. Investors are now reevaluating valuations of various firms. Recently it was reported Byju's valuation was cut to $11.5 billion by BlackRock from $22 billion.

Swiggy's FY22 revenue stood at over ₹6,000 crore. Recently, it appointed three independent directors to its board. Mallika Srinivasan, Padma Shri awardee and Chairman and MD of TAFE, Shailesh Haribhakti, Chairman of Shailesh Haribhakti & Associates, and Sahil Barua, MD and CEO at Delhivery.

ONDC is a set of specifications designed to foster open, unbundled, and interoperable open networks

IT ELIMINATES THE DEPENDENCY ON A SINGLE PLATFORM

Microsoft, Dunzo, Craftsvilla, IDFC, Kotak, Shiprocket and Spicemoney have already joined the open network

ONDC started its beta testing process with small retailers in Bengaluru on September 30, 2022

BY 2030, ONDC COULD FURTHER ACCELERATE THE EXPECTED 5X GROWTH IN DIGITAL CONSUMPTION OF PRODUCTS AND SERVICES

'Cheaper' ONDC scores over Swiggy, Zomato

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

WITH many companies joining the government-backed Open Network for Digital Commerce (ONDC), consumers have started exploring the platform that offers various verticals from groceries, home decor, fashion to food delivery, among others, at cheaper prices compared to other big players.

Recently, the platform has started allowing restaurants to sell food directly to its consumers and many have shared screenshots of the total bill on social media comparing the prices of ONDC with that of Swiggy and Zomato. Since ONDC doesn't have a separate app, consumers can place orders through Paytm, Magicpin, among others, by logging into these websites and searching for ONDC.

Ordering food via these apps is at least 20% cheaper compared to other food delivery companies. ONDC offers a special code that reduces food bills by ₹50. As per a user who shared screen shot of his food bill on Twitter, cost of Paneer Burger and Pepsi was ₹186 on ONDC, whereas on a food delivery platform, it costs ₹337.

Many buyers have integrated with the ONDC network including Mystore, Meesho, Craftsvilla, Pincode, among others. Recently, an ONDC official told this newspaper buyers will have wider choices and verticals to pick their favourite ones and communication can also happen in local languages. Similar price differences can be seen in other verticals such as ecommerce.

A recent report on joint search carried out by ONDC and McKinsey & Company said by 2030, ONDC could further accelerate the expected 5x growth in digital consumption of products and services.

"For food delivery and e-commerce, there was a reason why not all pin codes were covered and not all products/services were offered by the incumbents. ONDC in due time will equalize the field enough to allow anyone nimble enough to ride on these protocols to then build net new markets. But like payments, here too ONDC will coexist and thrive with the incumbents," said Nikhil Kurhe, co-founder and CEO of Finarkein Analytics. As per him, ONDC is a great monetisation opportunity that lowers the cost of onboarding and servicing new partners as seller apps. "For sellers, again cost of user discovery and acquisition comes down with ONDC's buyer apps who've spent time, effort, and cost to acquire, activate, retain, and funnel the user towards their offering," he said.

Govt to launch drive for paying unclaimed deposits

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE government will launch a drive to ensure people get their unclaimed deposits, shares and dividend, Economic Affairs Secretary Ajay Seth said on Monday after the 27th Financial Stability and Development Council (FSDC) meeting, headed by Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman.

He said the Union Budget 2023-24 had announced that the system would be put in place and there will be a drive for that.

"Unclaimed shares, deposits and dividends, which are lying in the pool, there should be a drive by the concerned regulator, where the nominee details are available…," Seth stated.

Nearly ₹35,000 crore are lying as a pool of unclaimed deposits as of February 2023 with the Reserve Bank of India (RBI). These funds were transferred by public sector banks (PSBs) in respect of deposits, which have not been operated for 10 years or more.

These unclaimed deposits belong to 10.24 crore accounts transferred to the RBI as of the end of February 2023.

RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das had last month said a centralised portal would be ready in three to four months wherein depositors and beneficiaries can access details of unclaimed deposits across various banks.

FSDC met, for the first time, after budget 2023-24 was announced. In the meeting, concerns with regard to financial stability in the country were also discussed, considering the daunting challenges in the global economy, said the secretary.

He said there is no spillover effect of the failures of the American financial institutions on the Indian banking system. According to him, Indian banks are well protected.

Cuemath, Teachmint lay off 170 employees

Payroll support

Teachmint will offer employees three-month payroll support, six months health insurance benefit and nine months ESOPs vesting to be accelerated for eligible teachmates. In March, Unacademy fired nearly 380 employees or 12% of its workforce

Lay off continues in edtech space as two start-ups have fired employees citing restructuring exercise.

Online math learning platform Cuemath, which is backed by Sequoia Capital, has laid off 100 employees out of its total employee strength of 800, according to sources.

The company's founder Manan Khurma will return as its full-time CEO, and its current CEO Vivek Sunder will transition from his full-time role to an advisory capacity. "The edtech ecosystem is seeing an inflection point - conservative capital markets, rapidly changing technology & AI ecosystems, and so on. The path forward for education companies - including Cuemath - needs to be anchored in creating learning outcomes for the end stakeholder - the student," Khurma said in a LinkedIn post. He said the company will continue to invest 'thoughtfully' and hire strategically. In June last year, it raised $57 million in a round led by Alpha Wave, and its valuation stood at $407 million.

From Vedantu, Unacademy to Byju's many start-ups have laid off employees. After laying off 45 employees recently, Teachmint has laid off another 70. A spokesperson at Teachmint said some roles have been unfortunately impacted as the company works on increasing structural efficiencies in its operations. The start-up said it will offer employees three-month payroll support, six months health insurance benefit and nine months ESOPs vesting to be accelerated for eligible teachmates.

In March, in its latest cost-cutting measure, SoftBank-backed Unacademy fired nearly 380 employees or 12% of its workforce. This is the fourth round of layoffs, as the unicorn in November fired 350 employees or 10% of its workforce.

In the internal memo to employees, Gaurav Munjal, co-founder and CEO, Unacademy Group, said, "We have taken every step in the right direction to make our core business profitable, yet it's not enough. We have to go further, we have to go deeper. This has led me to take another difficult decision." He said today, the global economy is enduring a recession, funding is scarce and running a profitable business is key.

Bad loans ratio helps cut down on provisions

The fall in the bad loans ratio helped reduce the provisions towards non-performing assets for the fourth quarter of financial year 2022-23 to `1,040 crore compared to `2,046 crore in the year-ago period.

PUBLIC sector lender Indian Bank on Monday reported a 47 percent rise in net profit to ₹1,447 crore for the March quarter, helped by a decline in bad loans and a healthy growth in interest income.

During the quarter, the bank's total income increased to ₹14,238 crore against ₹11,405 crore a year ago, Indian Bank said in a statement.

Interest income grew to ₹12,244 crore during the quarter from ₹9,832 crore in the corresponding quarter of the preceding financial year. Gross non-performing assets (NPAs) were reduced to 5.95% of gross advances as of March 31, 2023, from 8.47% by the end of March 2022. Net NPAs also came down to 0.90% of the advances from 2.27% a year earlier. The capital adequacy ratio of the bank declined marginally to 16.49% from 16.53% at the end of March 2022.

Massive lithium reserves discovered in Rajasthan

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

SUBSTANTIAL reserves of lithium have been identified in the Degana municipality of Nagaur district in Rajasthan, according to the Geological Survey of India (GSI).

GSI has claimed that the amount of lithium present in these reserves can meet 80% of the country's total demand. The discovery of these reserves could help reduce India's dependence on China for Lithium, which is used in batteries of mobiles, laptops as well as electric vehicles. Because of its high cost and the increase in demand all over the world, it is also called 'White Gold'.

GSI officials say this lithium reserve is much bigger than the reserves found in Jammu and Kashmir. In February this year, 5.9 million tonnes of lithium reserves were discovered in Jammu and Kashmir. Lithium deposits in Rajasthan have been found in the same Renwat hills of Degana town and its surrounding areas.

GSI team went to Degana not to search for lithium, but to search for tungsten. But there they discovered deposits of lithium.

According to the report of Geologist Devendra Singh of Barmer, along with the Renwat hills of Degana in Nagaur district of Rajasthan, Barabar in Pali district, Bap area of Jodhpur, Pokaran of Jaisalmer, Kuchaman and Didwana of Nagaur district, Sujangarh and Talchhapar of Churu and Pachpadra in Barmer district may also have Lithium deposits.

Messi back in training with PSG after suspension

Lionel Messi returned to training Monday with his PSG teammates after the club lifted his suspension. PSG announced Messi's return on their website, posting a picture of the former Barcelona player. PSG did not officially say whether Messi's disciplinary punishment had been revoked, but a person with knowledge of the situation reportedly told a news agency that Messi resumed his training after the suspension was lifted.

After mastering tough Doha conditions, Neeraj looking ahead to season

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

WITH Doha over, Olympic champion Neeraj Chopra is getting ready for bigger challenges. The season is still nascent and the first events are always tricky. If the conditions are not favourable, things can get complicated. Neeraj, who had a successful last season winning the coveted Diamond League trophy, has begun the season well, triumphing in Doha.

A day before the competition, his coach Klaus Bartonietz had said that it was windy and the javelin throwers would be running into the wind. "Head wind is not ideal for javelin throwers where sprint is involved," he had said.

On Friday, the night of the first Diamond League of the season, the throwers were running into the wind. Challenge was unique and even Neeraj felt so. Despite having a good throw, he felt the javelin was "not flying properly" because of the wind.

"Training was very good and considering the conditions we had (on Friday), my performance, world leading, was quite good," Neeraj told this daily. "Now the focus will be on the next competitions where I will concentrate on improving technique and throw. I would like to do better than this."

"(On Friday) the conditions were difficult not just for me but for all throwers," he said. "There was headwind and the javelin was not flying properly because of the wind. Everyone was trying but it was not easy out there."

Even his coach Bartonietz felt the season has started well and Diamond League is for ranking points to make the final. Neeraj's 88.67m in Doha is a good beginning and they will be hoping to build on it.

All the top javelin throwers of the world assembled at Doha. World champion Jakub Vadlejch of Czech Republic, who won silver at Tokyo Olympics, finished second with a throw of 88.63m while Anderson Peters of Grenada finished third. Both have breached the 90-m mark and there were two others who had managed the distance. The field will be more or less the same in all top competitions including the 2024 Paris Olympics and the World Championships in August this year. Going ahead, such wins usually give confidence to the athletes and an edge in bigger competitions like Olympics.

Neeraj, however, felt challenges in different competitions are different. "We enter and compete against each other in almost all competitions," he said. "In Diamond League, all the best throwers come. It feels good to win against such competitors. But we can't conclude anything from such competitions. Olympics are a different ball game altogether. When we are at the Olympics, pressure is different. Even the format is different. We have to qualify. When we are in the Olympics, we represent the country so the pressure is different. But yes, experience wise it always is positive if we compete and win against them. The pressure is less if we keep competing against them." Neeraj will be in Antalya until May 30 when he and his team – Bartonietz and physio Ishaan Marwah – leave for Saarbruecken in Germany.

Kings unable to solve mystery

Chakravarthy bamboozles Punjab batters; Going back to basics behind his revival this term

KKR's Varun Chakravarthy celebrates a wicket against PBKS on Monday | SPORTZPICS

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Chennai

AT the 2021 T20 World Cup, most of India's top-order batters didn't turn up. When a few of them belatedly did, they were also rans in a tournament that promised a lot. Considering it was a World Cup, the management had to identify a few players responsible for the below-par showing. So, they naturally turned to one of the least experienced players at the tournament — Varun Chakravarthy.

Even if Chakvarthy had gone wicketless in the desert — in a tournament eventually dominated by tweakers in the middle-overs and a part of the powerplay that went against him — there wasn't much he could have done. In the three matches he played before he was jettisoned midway during the tournament, he conceded 71 runs in his 11 overs. Not at all disastrous considering two of those games were against Pakistan and New Zealand, when more experienced bowlers had returned worse figures. With a dip in confidence post that UAE sojourn, the 2022 IPL was a chastening experience. Billed as the mystery spinner, he was not living up to that name. Then, he decided to go back to the basics. The proof of that is available in most of Kolkata's matches this year. If 2022 was the product of a spinner trying too hard for little to no reward, 2023 is a product of Chakravarthy embracing simplicity.

At Eden Gardens on Monday, the Chakravarthy show was again on display, with his 3/26 off four overs (11 dots), keeping Punjab Kings honest throughout the innings. What's changed? This year, the speed is back up. As an extension, he's able to impart more revs on the ball. He's also more accurate, turning it just enough to challenge both edges. The wicket of Punjab's Liam Livingstone is a case in point. After two regulation deliveries, he pitched one on middle and turned it ever so slightly. Livingstone, looking to hit in the powerplay, was expecting an off-break delivery and played for it. It turned and clipped his pads and was adjudged leg-before, with ball tracking suggesting it was clipping. It's the sort of sequences of play that shows why the national team (and Kolkata) put their faith in him.

And that accurate line has been an hallmark of his in 2023. Off the 17 wickets he has claimed, nine have been bowled or lbw. "I have worked more on my accuracy rather than working on different variations," he had said after his 3/27 against Bangalore in the last week of April. "Another aspect I was working on was revolutions on the ball." After defending nine in the final over (he conceded only three) against Hyderabad on Thursday, he had said: "Last year, I was bowling around 85 kmph... I realised that once my revolutions go down, my speed goes down. So I worked on my revs and that really helps."

It was also noted by Anil Kumble, who's working as a pundit. "He's a unique bowler," he had said during one of Chakvarthy's games. "For a bowler like Varun, the action and speed that he bowls at, if the speed drops, then he's not effective."

Brief scores: PBKS 179/7 in 20 ovs (Dhawan 57; Chakravarthy 3/26, Rana 2/33) lost to KKR 182/5 in 20 ovs (Rana 51, Russell 42).

HIGH-STAKES FIXTURE

Two teams hoping to break into the top-four — Mumbai and Bangalore — meet at the Wankhede. A look...

Rohit no longer able to hide

Rohit Sharma has rightly earned the plaudits for being the most successful IPL captain. However, his diminishing batting returns has finally started to grab eyeballs. The last time he struck at over 130 was in 2018. The last time he averaged over 30 was 2016. More recently, in 2023, he has five runs in his last four games. That's unsustainable.

18.83

18.83 Rohit's average in the IPL since the beginning of 2022

Bangalore's chasm between openers and others

To be honest, this has been a longstanding issue for the franchise. Faf du Plessis (511) and Virat Kohli (419) have, combined, made 150 more runs than the others. This is a major problem and it's reflected in their season so far. And with Glenn Maxwell (four single digit scores in his last five games) not making enough runs at the moment, it's a big problem.

FAVOURITES MEET REAL CHALLENGE

Manchester City stand between Real Madrid and another European Champions League final. A look at the first leg of the semifinal on Tuesday...

Manchester City's Erling Haaland (L), Kevin De Bruyne (C) and Jack Grealish attend a training session on Monday | AFP

BACKGROUND

MANCHESTER CITY

Manchester City have been like a battering ram in the last two months or so, winning almost every match of consequence since the 1-1 draw against Nottingham Forest on February 18. Their only two draws since that period came in Europe but were never in any trouble of going out. Erling Haaland is bang in form while Jack Grealish and Kevin de Bruyne are pulling strings in midfield.

REAL MADRID

With the league season a write off, Real shifted their focus to Europe — their holy grail — since the World Cup break. After winning the Copa del Rey final the weekend, they will be keen to defend the title they won last year against Liverpool. And against Liverpool they showed they still possess the knack of winning all the big moments.

KEY MAN

HAALAND

It's tough to look past the guy who has scored 51 goals, including 12 in Europe in this edition of the Champions League. One of his great traits is being at the right place at the right time and considering the club create a tonne of chances, that's usually more than enough.

VINI JR

If there's one thing that City doesn't like, it is wingers with pace running at their back line. In the Brazilian, Real have that. He likes to take his man, run down the channels as well as cut inside. Also, he possesses a telepathic understanding with Karim Benzema.

12.30 AM ON WEDNESDAY | SONY SPORTS NETWORKS

11 The last time these two sides met in Europe, there were 11 goals between them over two legs, with Madrid scoring two goals in injury time before netting the winner in extra time of the second leg in last year's semifinals

6 Vini Jr has six Champions League goals this season

12 Haaland has 12 goals and an assist in eight Champions League games this season

Happy debut for Sachin, Naveen & Govind bow out

AGENCIES @Tashkent

INDIAN boxer Sachin Siwach (54kg) made a winning start to his maiden World Championships campaign, dispatching Serghei Novac of Moldova with a facile victory here on Monday.

The former World Youth champion showcased his technical prowess to register a 5-0 unanimous decision win and cruise to the bantam weight pre-quarterfinals.

Sachin took charge of the proceedings from the word go as he relentlessly attacked Novac in the round of 32 bout.

Using his height advantage and long reach, the 23-year-old relied on a combination of punches to take the first round. The second round followed a similar script with the Indian landing a flurry of punches, the most impressive being a combination of a straight jab, a left and then a right hook. His defence was as strong as his attack as he danced around the ring, ducking his opponents punches.

While Sachin had a memorable outing, it was end of the road for Naveen (92kg) and Govind Sahani (48kg). Naveen lost 0-5 against Spain's Enmanuel Pla Reyes while Sahani lost 0-5 against Alakhverdovi Sakhil of Georgia.

Bajrang, Vinesh hit mat for first time in 15 days

AGENCIES @New Delhi

STAR wrestlers Bajrang Punia and Vinesh Phogat hit the mat on Monday for the first time in 15 days to be ready for the Asian Games trials even as IOA's ad-hoc panel set the ball rolling for resumption of activities by finalising dates for the Asian Championships (U-17, 23) trials.

Sparring was out of question for these top wrestlers after they resumed their sit-in protest at Jantar Mantar, demanding the arrest of Wrestling Federation of India chief Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh.

Bajrang and Vinesh have not competed in any international tournament since January and have not gone for training abroad though the Sports Authority of India (SAI) had cleared their training-cum-exposure stints on their request.

Farmers from Punjab & khap members from Haryana reached the protest site in New Delhi to extend their support to the protesting wrestlers | SHEKHAR YADAV

Till recently, they were adamant that unless their demands are met they won't train or compete in international tournaments. In the last fortnight, they had two light training sessions at Jantar Mantar only.

However, Vinesh on Sunday had said they will resume training and won't shun tournaments anymore.

In the one-hour session at a nearby stadium, Bajrang had Jitender Kinha as his sparring partner while Vinesh trained with her cousin Sangeeta and Rio Olympics bronze medallist Sakshi Malik. "The last time we did mat training was a day before the resumption of this protest. And you have seen how busy we were in meeting supporters in the last 15 days. The discussions were happening even late in the night, training was not possible. But now, we will do mat training consistently," said a wrestler.

IOA's ad-hoc panel meeting

The ad-hoc panel, formed by the IOA to run the WFI's day-to-day activities, had discussions with coaches and SAI officials. Keeping in mind the Asian Championships for U-17 and U-23 wresters, to be held in Bishkek from June 10-18, the panel decided to hold trials from May 17-19 at the Indira Gandhi Stadium.

Rivals have 'under-delivered': Red Bull chief

AFP @Miami Gardens

TEAM principal Christian Horner said Red Bull's total dominance of Formula One this season is mainly due to the failings of their rivals Mercedes and Ferrari rather than any big steps forward from his team. Red Bull's world champion Max Verstappen won his third race of the season with victory in the Miami Grand Prix on Sunday with teammate Sergio Perez finishing second.

Red Bull have won all five races and had four 1-2 finishes so far this season, leading some to worry the sport is becoming too predictable.

Max Verstappen (R) & Sergio Perez celebrate their 1-2 finish in Miami

Miami GP result (top 5): 1) Max Verstappen (Red Bull) 1:27:38;241; 2) Sergio Perez (Red Bull) +5.38s; 3) Fernando Alonso (Aston Martin) +26.30s; 4) George Russell (Mercedes) +33.22s; Carlos Sainz (Ferrari) +42.511s.

5 Red Bull have won all the five races this season so far (Verstappen 3, Perez 2)

But while this is Red Bull's best-ever start to an F1 season, Horner doesn't want to take too much credit for his team.

"We feel that we've made a good step from the (previous car) but the kind of step that you would expect, it's more that it feels like others have lost ground," Horner told reporters. The Englishman said that he has been surprised by the lack of competitiveness of the rivals. "I think it surprised us that the others have perhaps under-delivered compared to where they were last year, but no doubt they will be looking to address that, and I'm sure starting in Imola we're going to see big updates starting to come through," he said.

Horner said those updates for the next race could see "big gains" for the likes of Ferrari and Mercedes.

Asia Cup out of Pakistan; Sri Lanka may host event

AGENCIES @New Delhi

IN a huge setback to Pakistan, the Asian Cricket Council (ACC) on Monday decided to move the Asia Cup out of the country after PCB's proposal to host the tournament on a 'hybrid model' was rejected by the member nations.

Sri Lanka has emerged as a front-runner to host the six-nation tournament as humid conditions in the UAE in September could lead to injuries to players. It will be interesting to see if Pakistan, after this snub, competes in the tournament, scheduled to be held from September 2-17. The Pakistan Cricket Board was forced to propose an alternative after BCCI refused to send the Indian team to the neighbouring nation due to diplomatic tension between the two countries.

"Najam Sethi (PCB chairman) was in Dubai today to procure support but to his horror there were no takers for his proposal of Pakistan playing its games in Karachi or Lahore and India playing in UAE," an ACC source said.

DAY'S DIARY

Golden Girls finale

After having a very successful seven-season run on NBC, The Golden Girls aired its series finale on this day in 1992

ABOUT THE SHOW

The Golden Girls is the story of four older women who share a house in Miami Beach, Florida. Bea Arthur, Rue McClanahan, Betty White, Estelle Getty play the friends

A SEQUEL

McClanahan, White and Getty starred in a spinoff, The Golden Palace, which featured Blanche, Rose and Sophia running a Miami hotel

AWARDS

Each of the four Golden Girls actresses took home a single Emmy for their work on the show. McClanahan earned hers in 1987 for a second season

Santorini vibes in Bengaluru!
PG 3

Singer Shilpa Rao, who was recently in the city for a show, speaks to CE about working with the star combo of AR Rahman, Mani Ratnam and Gulzar in PS2, and life after her hit song, Besharam Rang

GOLDEN VOICE

MONIKA MONALISA

SHILPA Rao's voice in the song Ruaa Ruaa (Hindi version) in Ponniyin Selvan II, the soul of the love story between the Chola princess Kundavai and Vanthiyathevan, added the extra magic the song required.

It is a dream for many artistes to be part of a movie which has the holy trinity of the industry – Mani Ratnam, AR Rahman and Gulzar, and Rao considers herself lucky to have gotten this opportunity. "PS2 is actually a legendary franchise and it's a great honour to be a part of such an epic project. Mani sir, Rahman sir and Gulzar sahab – these are some dream artistes anyone would want to work with. I am grateful to have got this opportunity and to learn from them. We are getting great response for the song and that fills my heart with joy," says Rao.

Rao's year began on a high note with Pathaan's Besharam Rang being one of the chartbusters of the year. "We are overwhelmed with the response this song got. The love we got from everyone is humbling and I'm grateful for everything. I am happy that everyone got the meaning of the song and it gives many the power to express themselves unapologetically. It's always a joy to work with musicians Vishal-Shekhar and director Siddharth Anand," says Rao, adding that in all her stage shows, including her recent one in Bengaluru, the song was the most requested one.

A frequent visitor to the city, Rao feels at home here. "I have been to Bengaluru many times and have a great audience for music over here. I have performed so many times and it feels like home, so that's great," she adds. Currently busy with her stage shows, Rao likes to be connected to the basics of being a singer and emphasises on never missing her riyaz irrespective of her schedule. "Doing riyaz every single day not only helps as a vocal exercise but also builds a mental connection. When you are mentally connected to it, that is when you are learning it as well. So whenever anybody does riyaz, they should align their vocals with their mind to achieve the most out of it. Getting good sleep definitely adds to it," Rao says about the secret to her soulful singing.

Musings of a monk

A healthy dose of gyaan was in store for B'lureans, including actor Deepika Padukone, when best-selling author Jay Shetty was in town over the weekend

EXPRESS FEATURES

FRIENDSHIP, love and everything in between. On Saturday evening, Bengalurueans, including Bollywood actor Deepika Padukone who came in as an audience member, got a healthy dose of advice from new-age monk and motivational Jay Shetty at the 'Jay Shetty: Love Rules World Tour'.

Despite some confusion owing to PM Narendra Modi's mega rally, the evening saw Shetty in deep conversation with actor Anupam Kher. How does one cope with loss, sudden or otherwise? Does one regret the last conversation or regret not having that one last conversation? Is healing and grief a different journey for each one? "The loss of someone you love changes the way you treat people who are alive. In fact, you fully appreciate the people who are alive," said Shetty.

At the show, co-produced by BookMyShow, the best-selling author admitted that growing up, he didn't understand relationships and didn't know how to have healthy, successful ones. "I was always falling in love with other people hoping to then fall in love with myself," said Shetty. Kher then went onto to share his side of the story of how over four decades ago, he gave love a second chance with actor and MP Kirron Kher.

"Kirron and I were friends and I had unknowingly fallen in love. When I heard she was to get married, I went to meet her immediately, hoping to convince her otherwise. But she had made up her mind. A few years later, both of us met again, and when things were not working out for her, we decided to marry," he shared.

Roping in audience members, Shetty got a handful to share their stories on stage. "Letting go is hard but holding on even harder," he said.

Bollywood star Deepika Padukone, and sister Anisha Padukone were spotted in the audience

WHAT'S IN A NAME? HA...HA...HA...!

OPEN SPACE

HAVING just gone through a pre-poll season of political leaders resorting to a sustained exchange of name-calling and dirt-flinging, I am reminded of Juliet's line from Romeo & Juliet of Shakespearean fame: "What's in a name? That which we call a rose/By any other name would smell as sweet."

The Question remains whether those leaders who indulged in the political verbal spats over the last few weeks would be eligible to be described by the last word in Juliet's line. But there's something about names and how we refer to them, or what meanings we derive from them – often for some fun and mischief.

In the late 1970s, when I was in school, my most embarrassing moments were when my classmates called me by the name of a male contraceptive. A slight inflation of the buccal cavity while pronouncing the second syllable of my first name ended up pronouncing the name of that contraceptive instead of mine. That product was being popularised as part of a massive family planning campaign – Naalak aane ge mooru ('three for four annas').

Passing out of school, I went through a sort of a "promotion" as far as how I was addressed. By the time I was doing my Masters, my classmates (none of them from my school days) had started calling me, not by that brand name, but by the very word that describes the entire category of such contraceptives.

These days, sometimes I wonder whether these contraceptives came on the scene only to humiliate me and my namesakes. I might be justified in my thought as today India is officially the most populous country in the world, contraceptives or not!

My father's eldest sister – older than him by a decade and three years – had a fetish for keeping names. Many of my cousins have long names, all thanks to her. Somehow I was spared a long first name although she is said to have kept my official name at my naming ceremony. But then, that's all I was spared of....a long name, but ending up sounding like the brand name of a male contraceptive, much to the entertainment of my school, college and university mates! But, I can't blame my aunt! I had arrived on the scene before that contraceptive.

I have never met another 'Nirad' yet. I would have loved to, including the famous Indian writer Nirad C Chaudhuri, to find out his possible experiences over his name and that brand of contraceptive. But then, he had moved to the UK, and I am sure he was spared.

Although a fictional character, there is some consolation that the eccentric professor in 3 Idiots was called 'Virus', from his name Prof Viru Sahasrabudhe. I do wonder whether our swashbuckling former Indian batsman Virendra (Viru) Sehwag was ever called like that too by his close friends. All ingredients in his name are in place for that.

I call it 'consolation' because names do get stuck. A friend from my university days (and who was among the first to call me by the word describing male contraceptives) was himself called "Genda", a hippopotamus. And another friend was called "Ton" because he looked like he weighed almost that. We have lost track of Ton. Guess why? None of us knew what his real name was, and that does not help in tracking him on social media. At least my case wasn't like that, and that's a consolation.

No problem! All taken in good spirit! Thank you, Juliet! Thank you, Shakespeare!

SANTORINI VIBES IN B'LURU!

ASLAM GAFOOR

(The writer is a Bengaluru-based hospitality professional, food lover, and travel enthusiast)

IT doesn't get bigger than this! Santorini's timeless beauty meets Bengaluru's cool Garden City vibe at Oia, the trendiest food and beverage destination in town.

Spread over two acres, the newly-launched Oia offers the largest pub experience in this part of the continent and promises to transport visitors to the sun-kissed Mediterranean islands.

But what sets Oia apart is its unique Greek-inspired architecture featuring white-washed columns and arches, blue dome clock tower, a central courtyard with canopied cabanas, amphitheatre and a large koi pond with a charming wooden bridge. Going against the norm of a usual building, the architecture here plays with the naturally flowing peaks of a mountain, not restricted by height or linear form. A mythical land that resembles a large village with numerous levels and niches that allow a variety of seating experiences, each providing a unique mood and expansive views of the central waterbody.

The interiors of Oia are equally breathtaking, with intricately hand-drawn single-line sketches adorning the walls. Soothing waterfalls and foliage add a therapeutic touch, while the black-on-white terrazzo flooring add to the larger monochrome environs. Every nook and corner is designed to be picture-perfect, making it an ideal spot for Instagram enthusiasts and food lovers alike to capture the perfect shot.

Lokesh Sukhija, a seasoned restaurateur, is the brainchild behind Oia, and after establishing several successful bars and restaurants, this latest venture is perhaps his most ambitious yet. He says, "Oia is truly one of my proudest achievements." With a seating capacity of over 1,800 guests, Oia offers a premium food and beverage experience that has something for everyone.

The beverage menu boasts an extensive selection of craft brews, wines, spirits, and innovative cocktails. Despite its size and grandeur, the pub manages to maintain an intimate and welcoming atmosphere with a friendly and knowledgeable team. The signature cocktails include the People's Obsession, Foxy & I Know It, Anivas Politan, and Taiyo, each with its unique blend of ingredients.

Oia's food dishes are as impressive as its décor. The boozy vodka pani puri, edamame tokri tart, tandoori burrata in karari roti, Greek cheese samosa, and whisky garlic prawns are just a few of the many delicacies from around the world. From sushi to tacos, dumplings to pizzas, Asian curries to European plates and Indian meals, there is something to suit every palate.

Sukhija concludes, "Oia is not just a restaurant; it's an immersive journey that takes you to the heart of Greece and leaves you with memories that will last a lifetime." Whether you're looking to host your office party, or just a casual day out with friends and loved ones, Oia is the perfect place to be.

Voting Season

LOVEOLOGY
Mahesh Natarajan

(The author is a counsellor with InnerSight)

YEARS ago, in one of the Calvin & Hobbes strips, a regular theme of polls and voting started. It typically starts with Calvin looking all serious with a pen and a notepad, talking to a parent about how the ratings stood and what the polls indicated about approval ratings of the parent. In question. Usually, there are specific feedbacks and instructions on how to improve the poll rating should the parent not want to be changed. The parent listens to all that and finally declares that parenthood was not an elected position and it was a parent-for-life kind of deal, leaving Calvin in quite a fix.

On May 10, all of Karnataka will go to the polls to see who will form the next government here. Amidst all the hectic campaigning, whether it is a huge open vehicle procession across the city's arterial roads, or an idli, vadae and coffee shared with delivery partners at one of the iconic open air restaurants in the heart of the city and then going off on a bike ride with a delivery partner, or just registering as a candidate and having well-wishers campaign silently door to door, it is a moment of reckoning for all the suitors. For once, the people have a voice and the power to show who matters and who falters.

We rarely get to do that in a relationship unless we make it a habit to bring such a practice of checking back. We can change governments pretty easily every few years, but in matters of the heart, especially when it is a relationship that has been legally recognised and/ or socially acknowledged, we don't seem to think we have the voice or the vote, not unless it comes to a cliffhanger of sorts where the relationship is itself at stake.

Even if we think like Calvin's parent in the cartoon strip and assert that the relationship is a forever scenario, it is useful to listen to the feedback. The polls and the votes may have their biases, but the voice matters.

If you are in love and want to keep the relationship going, then why not seek a vote of confidence every now and then? Of course, just like nobody wants a public election every other weekend, perhaps here too, we could look at a polling of the parties involved in the relationship every few months? If our politicians asked for feedback, took it seriously and acted to make our relationship better, then we would be reelecting them all the time, with or without the rigamarole of a campaign, would we not? Same thing holds true for love and relationships as well. If we take a dip-stick survey of sorts on where we are with each other and what we can do to keep the relationship exciting for everyone, would we not reaffirm our connection over and over?

Relationships are built on performance. The promises we make to each other, and how we keep them, matters. In that respect, we are all constantly seeking reelection.

‘Vaghachipani will be a unique visual experience’

On the sets of Vaghachipani

CE FEATURES

IN today’s digital world, it is unusual for a filmmaker to revert to old methods of filmmaking. Natesh Hegde, the director of the critically acclaimed film Pedro, shares that his next film Vaghachipani, his first features film is special because the film was shot using a 16 mm reel, which is uncommon today. Vaghachipani, which is produced by Rishab Shetty Films, is currently in post-production.

Natesh shared that shooting on a 16 mm reel was like using currency notes, and one should think a lot before using it. “I wanted to experience shooting on a 16 mm reel right in my first film, Pedro, but wanted to get a hang of filmmaking, before I attempt to something new. When I expressed my desire to Rishab Shetty before Vaghachipani, he gave me the go-ahead,” says Natesh, who sourced the reel from Kodak.

While filming on reel has its constraints, Natesh shares that it helps in precision and clarity. “Shooting in digital can result in hours of content, while 16 mm has its limitations. We cannot see what is shot on location, which keeps us curious until the reel gets developed,” he says.

Vagachipani is the name of a town, and the film revolves around a mentally challenged shepherdess who gets pregnant. It is set in and around Sirsi and stars Achyuth Kumar, Dileesh Pothan, and Gopal Hegde in the lead roles.

Natesh believes that shooting on 16 mm reel has produced a good outcome, and the audience will definitely notice the difference. “The film’s depth and sharpness are different from digital, and it will provide a unique experience on screen,” he says.

Vaghachipani will first do its festival rounds, and thwe production house will decide on a wider release date soon.

The film has music by Marc Marder. Cinematographer Vikas Urs, who has worked with Natesh in Pedro has collaborated with the director once again

NAVEEN SHANKAR, JANARDHAN CHIKKANNA TO TEAM UP FOR A NEW FILM

The actor confirms collaborating with the director and plans to venture into new genres

A SHARADHAA

ACTOR Naveen Shankar and director Janardhan Chikkanna, who previously collaborated on the pathbreaking cyber crime thriller Gultoo, are planning to team up for another project. While the discussions are in place, Naveen confirms that it will not be an immediate project. “Janardhan is busy with his second film, Agynathavasi, and is in talks for another. From my end, I am getting ready for the release of Kshetrapathi, Only after this, I will discuss my film with Janardhan,” says Naveen, adding, “We want to do something different, and that will take time.”

Naveen has been enjoying consecutive success with his films. While Hondisi Bareyiri (2023) had a good theatrical run and is currently performing well on digital platform, his performance in Dharani Mandala Madhyadolage (2022) also received a lot of love. Above all, his portrayal as the antagonist in Hoysala brought him into the spotlight. “Post Hoysala, I expected to receive more such characters, but interestingly, I have been approached to play leads,” says Naveen, who is glad Hoysala opened up new avenues, especially among the mass audience. “I had that experience when I recently visited Chamundi Hills. Filmmakers are also approaching me with mass subjects. But I’m more careful with choosing the right scripts, and the project with Janardhan will be special,” says Naveen.

Meanwhile, the makers of his upcoming film, Kshetrapathi, are looking for a July release.
